D.C. Makes 'Expected' Planning Unit Changes

'Turning Point'

Westlakers And Trustees Agree To Joint Meet

A change in the attitudes of those Westlakers opposing Serramonte High School in the Jefferson High School District was noted Monday night.

Supt. Edward Morgan saw the indication of a "turning point" in relations between the board and the Westlake Citizens Steering Committee.

At the end of about two hours of strained discussion, it was mutually agreeable for the board and the opposition Westlake forces to work together on an agenda for a proposed study meeting.

Al Smith, a Westlake resident, was credited with advancing an atmosphere of conciliation, after commenting that perhaps Morgan and other school officials knew something that the laymen members of the citizens committee don't know.

Smith recommended a joint meeting between the board and opposition factions; that the groups "back up to the point where we were communicating with each other and make a fresh start."

Dr. Sanford Marcus, generally recognized as the leader of the Westlake Citizens Steering Committee, said he was agreeable to some joint study sessions, but would have to get approval on the point from the committee.

MEETING PLANNED

New Bruno Flood Control Proposal

San Bruno is developing a proposal that it thinks will offset the April 9 defeat of an $800,000 flood control bond issue that would have rescued low areas — particularly in the Belle Air Park region — from the destruction and annoyance of winter flooding.

Citizens rejected the issuance of general obligation bonds. Most of those who voted favored the measure, but the final tally was not sufficient for a required two-thirds passage.

The new proposal to allow the city to proceed with the flood control projects will be aired at an adjourned meeting of the city council at 8 p.m. April 29.

The matter will be the lead item on the council's agenda that night, prior to a personnel session, according to Maurice Hamilton, outgoing mayor, who reported on meetings that followed defeat of an $800,000 bond issue to finance the projects.

Hamilton explained that the next most feasible move would be for the city to finance the work from its general fund in the form of a loan to the flood control district.

Hamilton explained that the city has studied its own financial situation and determined it could finance the flood control improvements from its own funds.

To repay the loan from the city, the flood control district directors — the County Board of Supervisors — would be required to levy a special tax.

Hamilton said he did not expect the tax would exceed 10 cents on the rate per each $100 assessed valuation.

"There appears to be no legal problems involved," said Hamilton, who is an attorney.

Such a move would require the district board to authorize and enter into a joint powers agreement with the city, he explained.

The proposal will be considered at next week's meeting. Other possibilities had been pondered, but rejected, Hamilton noted.

Among these were possible diversion of municipal capital improvement funds (officials, he said, disagreed with any such diversion); a county loan to the district (there are county budgetary problems to this idea, he pointed out); or a joint powers agreement with the district, and issuance of revenue-type bonds with which to finance the projects (marketability of these type of funds is "pretty poor" and the interest rate higher than general obligation bonds, Hamilton said.)

Election Aftermath

Stewart, Masini 'Dumped;' Tonelli, Banfield Named

The Daly City Council ceremoniously dumped two of its Planning Commissioners during a regular meeting Monday.

No one was surprised by the move which had been anticipated by observers since the last general election two weeks ago.

The "ceremony" came in two quick moves: On a motion from Councilman Tony Giammona removing longtime Commissioner Anthony Masini, and on a second motion made by Councilman Edward Dennis which bounced McRobert Stewart.

Both motions were seconded by Councilman Frank Pacelli.

Stewart was a candidate in the recent elections against incumbents Pacelli and Giammona.

(DeBernardi passed over as Daly City Mayor — See page 44.)

na. Masini had acted as Stewart's campaign chairman.

In removing the men, Dennis said, "There are times when changes must be made for the benefit of all the citizens."

Dennis then nominated Alfred E. Banfield, a 59-year-old San Bruno hardware dealer and longtime Daly City resident, to the post.

Next came Pacelli's turn and he nominated his former campaign manager — Dino Tonelli — to the vacated Planning Commission seat.

Both appointments were unanimously hailed by councilmen attending the session.

Councilman Michael R. DeBernardi, who had appointed both Stewart and Masini to the commission, was absent from the meeting.

Tonelli, owner of several drug stores in the Bay Area, will "bring new vital experience to the commission," Pacelli said.

Father of seven children, Tonelli was a former member of the city's personnel board and past president of the Excelsior Merchants' Association.

Wild Police Chase; Bruno Driver Is Jailed

By GEORGE GOLDING

A man claiming to be "Jesus Christ reincarnated" was arrested in San Bruno Tuesday for reckless driving, hit and run, not having a driver's license, and failure to heed red light and siren.

"Shoot me," he cried as officers poured from eight patrol cars after a 100-mile-per-hour chase up El Camino Real through Burlingame and Millbrae, "the Romans crucified Christ, now you shoot me."

He held his hands up — some officers said in surrender and others claimed to do combat — but he was not shot.

Police identified their arrestee as James F. Hash, 23, 753 Mills Avenue, San Bruno, an unemployed ex-sailor.

"I've been walking the earth in my bare feet looking for love, and couldn't find any," he said. "Jesus Christ was persecuted by the Romans, now that I'm reincarnated, I've got the police."

Burlingame Officer Charles

Seril had started the chase only four minutes earlier, as he was driving northward on El Camino Real near Carmelita. A car swerved across the double center line, Seril said, and forced him to whip his patrol car to the curb, almost smashing into Burlingame's renowned eucalyptus trees.

Seril said he spun his car around and turned on his red light and siren, but the fugitive vehicle sped away, turned onto Lincoln Avenue, and Paloma Avenue, went up over the curb at Coldidge School and ruined the lawn, sailed past stop signs without even slowing, went over the curb again at Mills High School, raced down Murchison Drive almost striking another car as it swerved northward on El Camino Real, and roared into Millbrae with Seril and Officer Anthony Cirelli in hot pursuit.

Two Millbrae patrol cars entered the chase at Millbrae Avenue right behind them, relaying radio messages to the Sheriff's County Control radio center. As every police department in San Mateo county was alerted, the parade swept past Hillcrest Avenue, picking up a third Millbrae car, and sped into San Bruno.

At San Benito Avenue, the elusive car swerved off El Camino, Seril said, and slammed into a parked 1962 auto owned by Ali Alea, 125 San Benito. Alea's car crashed into a 1967 auto owned by Victoria Shagan, 138 El Camino, and the bearded Hash came out of his wrecked 1961 auto, proclaiming that he was Christ reincarnated.

Officers noted that on the front seat of his car was a book, "Magical Powers of the Mind," and agreed that Hash had not apparently been drinking, nor did he appear to be under the influence of drugs.

They say he wore "white" jeans and a white shirt, shoes and socks, and longish blond hair with a long blond beard. "I thought Jesus was a brunette," one officer asked.

"I came back as a blond," was the reply. Officers said Hash struggled quite a bit, and removed his shirt before getting into the Burlingame police car.

He said he had attempted to get away from Officer Seril because he had not had a driver's license in over a year and a half, officers reported.

San Bruno police said Hash had been arrested by them over a year ago, on a traffic warrant related to an accident.

"The men in blue are out to persecute me," he said. He was booked at Burlingame jail, and no bail was set until the charges could be reviewed.

Dorchester Drive Will Stay Same

A discussion on the traffic pattern on Dorchester Drive ended Monday with the City Council deciding to let matters stand as they are — at least as long as present traffic conditions exist.

Several hundred irate residents stormed the council chambers last month armed with petitions protesting the erection of a one-way traffic sign and wooden barricade on the residential Westlake section street.

Coupled with a "no left turn" sign on Alemany (installed by the State), the new system was causing all sorts of problems in the affected areas, according to residents.

The council, after listening to the protests, instructed engineer Arthur Reschke to make another study of the traffic habits of the area.

After studying the results of the survey, Reschke suggested the barrier be taken down along with the one-way sign, and a three-way stop sign be installed at the corner of Dorchester and Westbrook Avenue.

In other action, the council approved the rezoning of a portion of Serramonte (unit 7) from Commercial (C-2) to residential (R-3).

Even the First Runner-up Was Happy!

ALEENA BRANSON, seated, new "Miss Pacifica," and first runner-up Kathleen McLain were caught in a moment of jubilation Saturday night when pageant winners were announced. Miss Branson, 18, is a freshman at College of San Mateo, and the first alternate is a Terra Nova High School senior. (Post Photo by Starr)

Teachers Are Cool to Strike Poll Shows

Less than 20 per cent of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association members in Daly City would back up their salary demands with a vote to strike, according to a poll released Monday.

The poll, taken by JCTA officers "to give us direction in negotiating next year's contract," indicates only 70 of 391 teachers responding are prepared to take the "ultimate step" to obtain higher pay.

Both JCTA President Marilyn Harris and Negotiating Council Chairman Denis O'Leary were noncommittal on the poll results, which were made public at a general membership meeting Monday afternoon.

"We wanted to know what the feelings of the members were on these matters before entering into the upcoming negotiations," O'Leary said, "and now we know." feelings on the poll results, the results represent reality, and that is what we wanted to determine," Miss Harris said. "Now, we will just have to live with it."

Though 260 of the responding teachers indicated they are in favor of the negotiating council's efforts to obtain a 5 per cent pay increase next year, instead of the reported 1 per cent increase recommended by Dist. Supt. Frank Greenwood, few favored any "militant" method for obtaining the higher raise.

Among the possible actions voted on in the "opinion poll" were the withholding of contracts, informational picketing, and the withholding of certain instances.

Aleena Branson 'Miss Pacifica'

College of San Mateo co-ed Aleena Branson won the "Miss Pacifica" title in the coastside city's "biggest ever" pageant Saturday night.

First runner-up in last year's competition, Miss Branson, an 18-year-old Terra Nova High School graduate, won the title over ten other entrants.

First runner-up was Kathleen McLain, an 18-year-old Terra Nova student, and Valerie Lea Wagner was second runner-up. Donna Van Sickle, another Terra Nova entrant, was third runner-up, and Gigi Clark captured fourth place.

Law Governing Private Patrols to Be Drafted

San Bruno officials plan to draw up an ordinance giving the police department more control over private patrol firms.

Councilmen green-lighted the move after City Manager Gerald Vergeer asked permission to draft the law to permit the police department to have some control over private patrol personnel selection.

Vergeer said the patrols presently "generally are not aiding" the police department. Chief of Police Russell Cunningham noted the patrols could be of service, in augmenting the regular city police patrolmen in certain instances.

McCloskey To Speak

Congressman Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey will be the featured speaker at the Daly City Chamber of Commerce Armed Forces Day Dinner to be held May 16 at the Daly City War Memorial. The congressman will fly from Washington on that day to address the citizens of the Daly City area.

Chairman Fred Martin has announced that tickets at $5.75 each are now on sale at the Daly City Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission Street.

Truax' 'Bob Clark' Alias Had Investigators Puzzled

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The Federal Bureau of Investigation knew the crew cut, 26-year-old accused embezzler of more than $500,000 in ABAG funds as Thomas Nelson Truax, alias Troy Thompson, alias Bob Clark.

It was a simple matter for investigators to figure out where Truax coined the name "Troy Thompson" head of T & R Associates and Thompson Enterprises. But it took some deep thinking to unravel where Truax picked up the name "Bob Clark."

The young assistant to the executive director of the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) used that alias during his stay in Florida, where he worked as a campaign worker for R. Bruce Jones Jr., a candidate for public defender of Palm Beach County, and also on his flight across the United States.

Assistant Attorney General Marshall Mayer thinks he has part of the answer:

"Two of Truax' closest friends are Jud Clark and a fellow with the first name of 'Bob,'" Mayer explained. "It's apparent Truax just grabbed their names and used them."

Clark is a consultant to the Assembly Government Organization Committee in Sacramento. Mayer isn't certain where "Bob" works (or his last name) "but I'm checking it out."

Although some reports have indicated Truax stopped over in (Please See Page 24, Column 1)

—Referred to the planning commission the problem of house numbering on San Anselmo, with a view toward making two streets instead of North and South San Anselmo Streets. Councilman Neil Christal said it was mathematically not possible to make number changes to correct the confusion that the streets of the two names causes.

Airport Has New Hazard —Garbage

A garbage dump airport at Brisbane may interfere with continued airline use of San Francisco International Airport, Federal Aviation Agency investigators were told Monday.

John Davies of Los Angeles, speaking for the Air Transport Association, objected to the proposed garbage dump airport.

John Meacham, assistant manager of the San Francisco Airport, said the city's Public Utilities Commission generally favors the new airfield, because it may take off the bigger field some of the constant demand for light-plane usage.

FAA officials were told there is a 1600-foot dirt runway at the garbage dump site now, and this would be extended to 2000 feet, and paved, in the projected development.

Our Chompers Best

CHAMPION crab cioppino chomper of the world turned out to be Gregory Mills, 9 Brummiss, Daly City, as he cracked and slobbered his way to fame and glory in the Crab Cioppino Eating Contest at the Third Annual Fisherman's Wharf Crab Cioppino Festival this week in San Francisco. Presenting Gregory his well earned award, the Gluttony Gourd, is Donna Avenni, Miss Fisherman's Wharf.

SAN BRUNO cioppino chomper, Mike Cota, enjoys his reward after he cracked and slobbered his way into second place. Thousands of crab-lovers watched as scores of cioppino chompers attempted to eat their way to fame and glory.

'Cat-In' Going To Dogs?

4 Felines Show For Auditions

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Perhaps if Universal Studios had waited until there was a full moon to hold its "cat-in" there would have been more participants.

As it was, only four feline aspirants showed up during a movie audition outside the Miyako Hotel in downtown San Francisco Monday.

More than 15 representatives from every major television network, radio station, newspaper and wire service in the Bay Area pounced on the four contestants, clawing for a chance to ask them questions regarding their individual qualifications for the part in the upcoming film "Wylee."

The questions ranged from "What tricks can George do?" to personal in-depth interrogation of whether an owner "really likes cats."

Seated at the audition table were pretty starlet Gayle Hunnicutt and producer Bernard Schwartz. The two judges closely examined each potential star and compared notes before selecting a gray cat named George over Suzy Steiger, of 21 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

Suzy, a Siamese feline, whose mistress, Lillian Steiger, was the first to arrive at the audition, came in second.

As producer Schwartz congratulated George, the bashful tomcat jumped from the table and ran for cover on the other side of the parking lot.

Johnny-on-the-spot was SPCA attendant Larry Holm who had been keeping a practiced eye on the proceedings "just to make sure these folks don't turn a dog loose among the cats for excitement."

Holm got a bright smile from one cat owner, Nancy Spielman, an employee of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, as reward for his efforts.

Shortly before the auditions began, a big dog ambled by the lineup with a little old man in tow. Everyone held their breath, but the dog ignored the cats and the potential movie stars — apparently agreeing that this was not the day to do battle with a canine — ignored the dog.

There was supposed to be a third judge for the event, but professional animal trainer Ray Berwick was being treated at a nearby hospital for a nasty cat bite on the hand administered by one of his "stars."

The film "Wylee" is a suspense thriller in which Eleanor Parker loves cats (lots of 'em) and leaves her money to them. A beautician (Miss Hunnicutt) persuades her to change the will in favor of nephew Wylee, played by Michael Sarrazin.

All in all, the cat-in was a lot less exciting than the love-ins, be-ins, sit-ins, and other "ins" the Bay Area has become accustomed to.

"But at least we didn't have to listen to some creep giving a speech about something even he doesn't understand," one newsman remarked as he paced his way out of the parking lot.

Secret Brisbane Probe— City Manager Testifies

Brisbane City Manager Lanier S. Brady and four other witnesses were called before the County Grand Jury Monday as District Attorney Keith G. Sorenson started presenting evidence of "allegedly illegal conduct."

Sorenson, who refused to disclose the nature of the case or even confirm that it involves Brisbane, said four or five additional witnesses will be called tonight. Their testimony should complete the investigation, he said.

The district attorney declined to speculate as to whether an indictment might be requested of the jury.

Sorenson said each of the witnesses was told the nature of the case but Brady, when he emerged after nearly two hours and 30 minutes of testifying, said he was unaware of the "precise nature of the inquiry."

"All I did was read the minutes of the City Council meetings for the past year or two," Brady said.

The city manager had been ordered to bring with him the minutes of meetings from January 1, 1966, to March 31 of this year.

Others subpoenaed to appear last night included Emil Echeberry, Brisbane public works foreman, and Mrs. Jean Johnson, the city finance officer. Mrs. Johnson was excused from testifying, however.

The other witnesses were not identified.

All of the witnesses were admonished by the jury foreman, Henry M. Nissen, not to discuss their testimony with reporters, Sorenson said.

Those close to the scene in Brisbane believe the probe may involve a possible conflict of interest on the part of a former city official.

Pacifica CC Head Resigns Top Post

Bernard H. "Bernie" Lake, Pacifica Chamber of Commerce manager since 1965, Thursday announced his resignation from the post.

Lake, widely known as an energetic and capable executive, has been named director of fairs and conventions for the Santa Maria Chamber of Commerce, and will assume duties there May 15.

In announcing his resignation Thursday, he stressed that he is leaving the local chamber post because the Santa Maria appointment is "a step upward, and a better opportunity in the monetary sense."

"It is with much regret that I leave Pacifica," Lake added.

He said his resignation is "definitely not related" to a current rift among chamber members over the newly formed San Mateo County Human Relations Commission.

"In fact, I had gone for an interview for the new job before that matter came up," he said.

Directors of the Pacifica Chamber were the only formal group in the county to voice opposition to the new civil rights organizations, and several members of the chamber have criticized the board's stand.

The organization's general membership will vote on whether or not to back the board's position May 9.

Chamber President Bernie Cohn said Thursday the board accepted Lake's resignation this week "with regret."

"We are losing a top-notch man," Cohn said, "and he will be very hard to replace."

He said the board will begin accepting written applications for the post immediately, and oral interviews will be conducted "within a few weeks."

Lake, a native of St. Louis and graduate of Lamar State College of Technology in Texas, joined the chamber staff after serving several years as a Coastside District Souting executive.

He inaugurated a number of important programs during his tenure in the post, and chamber membership has increased from about 40 to 171 members under his management.

Among the more notable programs undertaken during the past two years were the Route 186 Freeway project, the "Tenth Anniversary Celebration," and the Pacifica golf tournament.

Bernie Lake

The chamber was also instrumental in expanding the "Miss Pacifica" pageant into one of the most elaborate and widely hailed productions of its type.

The pageant this year gained a direct "Miss California-Miss America" franchise.

Under Lake's management, the chamber also worked for and obtained lower freight rates for the city's business establishments, and played a large role in revitalizing the Pacific Manor Merchants Association.

Lake will remain in the manager's post until May 10.

Bertucelli Elected To Third Term

Frank Bertucelli was elected to his third term as South San Francisco's mayor last Tuesday by his fellow councilmen.

Appointed to the council in 1963 to replace Leo Ryan, Bertucelli served as mayor in 1965 and again in 1966.

He led a field of nine candidates in last week's municipal elections.

Veteran councilman Andrew Rocca was reappointed vice mayor Tuesday night, and newly-elected council members Frank Mammini and Warren Steinkamp were formally installed after votes were canvassed.

Miracle Coating Eliminates House Painting

American United Chemical Company has developed a remarkable product for exterior walls that virtually eliminates outside painting for many years to come and is factory guaranteed for 15 years. This product called GUARD-COTE, combines the long-lasting properties of fiberglass, asbestos, mica and perlite to make a wall surface that resists all climate extremes.

Throughout the Country

School boards have found textured coatings so economical and lasting over the past several years that they are now specifying this type of material for school buildings.

Many thousands of textured coating applications have been made on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, and these buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The United States Government and large corporations, such as Shell Oil Company, Pacific Telephone Company, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company, are using textured coatings. This remarkable exterior surfacing provides waterproofing, insulation, and beauty, far outlasting any ordinary paint.

GUARD-COTE comes in 12 beautiful decorator colors—and does not change the structural lines of the building. Actually it adds beauty to any home or structure and increases its value.

Water-proofs, Insulates, Fire Retardant

GUARD-COTE has the additional advantages of waterproofing and through the use of Silicoes, a modern day scientific advance, a water repellent "blanket" envelops the entire building so that no moisture can penetrate and damage the interior of the home. Through the use of fiberglass and perlite, highly efficient insulating material, the building becomes cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

Factory Guaranteed

Every GUARD-COTE job is registered and factory guaranteed for 15 full years material replacement against chipping, flaking or peeling. It fuses itself to the wall surface to a thickness 15 to 20 times that of normal paint.

No Obligation

Applications of GUARD-COTE are being made in this area by MORSE BROTHERS, exclusive applicators of this remarkable product for Northern California. Free information on how easily you may have GUARD-COTE applied at low bank terms with no down payment may be obtained by calling collect PLaza 6-1341 (24-hour service) or by mailing coupon below.

Linda M. Krause To Wed George C. Garbarino

St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Mission San Jose in Fremont has been reserved for the June 8 wedding of Linda M. Krause and George C. Garbarino Jr.

The engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Krause of Fremont. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Garbarino Sr., of Daly City who honored the couple with a reception at the San Bruno home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnstone, cousins of the future bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Walsh of South San Francisco have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann Schillaci, to Dennis Lee Hults of Eugene, Ore. The bride-elect will be graduated in June from South San Francisco High School. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hults, attended the University of Oregon, and is now in the United States Navy, stationed on the U.S.S. Oriskany. Wedding plans are incomplete.

Linda is an alumna of Hillsdale High School, the College of San Mateo and California State College at Hayward where her fiancé also studied. She now is doing graduate work at Hayward. THE FRANK STRATINSKY (Theresa Escobar)

Theresa Escobar Is a New Matron

Theresa Marie Escobar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Escobar of Millbrae, was married recently at St. Dunstan's Church of Frank Stratsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stratsky of San Francisco.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a cage gown appliqued with daisies and styled with a long train. Her veil was caught by an organza bow with daisies.

Judy Escobar, her sister-in-law's honor attendant, also wore an organza cage appliqued with daisies. Her yellow veiling was caught by white daisies with yellow centers. The same gowns were selected by Joyce Perry and Joanne Zmah, the bridesmaids.

Debbie Kaier of San Mateo, her cousin's flower girl, wore a gown of similar design.

Danny Escobar of Millbrae, Terry's brother, was the ring bearer.

Ron Ferrero of Burlingame, Frank's cousin, served as best man and guests were escorted to their seats by Dick Papias and Ted Berndson.

The couple received felicitations at the California Club before departing for a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas.

Both Terry and Frank attended Balboa High School in San Francisco. He received his Associate of Arts degree from City College of San Francisco.

Bloodmobile Visit Slated

DID YOU EVER

WONDER WHO CREATES
FASHION TRENDS?

Many manufacturers who must keep up with all the trends in decorating styles and fashions take the credit for creating these changes, or at least they may give some credit to their designers.

But the person who really deserves the credit for the changing trend is YOU, the consumer. This is equally true whether you're talking about dress fashions or furniture fashions.

All that the manufacturers and designers can possibly do is interpret your likes and dislikes; it is you who will make the final decisions as to what styles and colors you will buy.

Actually, as far as furniture goes, the public never had it so good selection-wise. Never in years has there been such a bonanza of diversified style trends going on at one time.

The furniture industry today is offering the widest selection of colors, textures, styles and designs to suit every decor and taste imaginable.

So whatever trend you like best, visit us for a fine selection in the wonderful world of furniture.

Riordan Festival Dance: For Adults Only

Adults Only is the rule for Friday evening's Aloha Festival Dance being readied by Robert McKeon, John Ortelie and Albert Bucci of Daly City — all of the Riordan Festival Committee.

The event is the kick-off of the annual festival at Riordan High School and is the only part of the three day program of activities that hasn't been planned for young and old alike. Parents and friends of the school will begin the evening of dancing to the music of Dominic Saso at 8 o'clock. Free door prizes will be given and games and refreshments will add to the festive atmosphere. Tickets are $1 per person and may be obtained from McKeon, 333-7153, Ortelie, 585-1033 or Bucci, 755-4333.

The highlight of Sunday's festival features will be a Barbecue Chicken dinner which will be served from 3 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. Dinner tickets may be purchased at the door for $1.75 per adult or $1 per child or they may be purchased in advance from Mrs. Walter Foster, 587-3301 or Mrs. Dale Barkyounb, 587-3303. Mr. and Mrs. Vern Box are dinner chairmen.

The festival will run from 1 p.m. until 11 p.m. this Saturday and Sunday at the high school, 175 Phelan Avenue. Admission is free.

THE ART GUILD of Pacifica's executive board will meet on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Carol Kirkpatrick.

Final arrangement for the Spring Festival of the Arts, to be held on May 11 and 12 at Sanchez Adobe, will be discussed.

MEMBERS OF THE Holy Angels Womens Guild's nominating committee have announced the proposed slate of officers for the coming term.

Mrs. David Ruska will be placed in nomination for the post

There will be an old fashioned Hoe Down with country music, square dances and a lively caller and you are invited!

Mrs. Barbara Hackley of the Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi reports that the sorority will hold such a "shindig" in the Pedro Valley school on May 4, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The evening will get underway with a spaghetti dinner and, following the repast, those present will dance to the calls of Howard Hillyer and his wife, Jerry, of the San Bruno Pairs and Spares.

The tickets are $5 per couple and may be purchased from any member of the sorority or reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Hackley, 355-4852 or Mrs. Jo Ann Purser, 358-4273, before May 1.

Mrs. Clyde Silverthorne, Mrs. Charles Boerio and Mrs. John Breslin, will be selling dolls in Spanish style market booth identified as Senoritas. La Fortuna will identify the booth containing the Surprise Packages. Mrs. Michael Cooney, Mrs. William Ruetter and Mrs. Bernard Schroer will be in charge. The meals will be cooked and donated by Joe's of Westlake and dinner tickets will be sold for 50 cents per child, $1.50 per adult, or $5 per family.

BY ALICE REICHERT

The William Saroyan play, "The Time Of Your Life," will be presented at Terra Nova by the Terra Nova Drama Department April 26 and 27, May 2, 3 and 4, under the direction of Mr. David Campbell and Kathy McLain. The set is a San Francisco bar along the Embarcadero in 1939. Featured are Lanny Dryden as Joe, a wealthy young loafer with a good heart; Jo-An Ethridge as Kitty, a young woman with memories; and Bobby "Ox" Achziger, as Joe's slightly bewildered admirer, disciple, errand boy and friend.

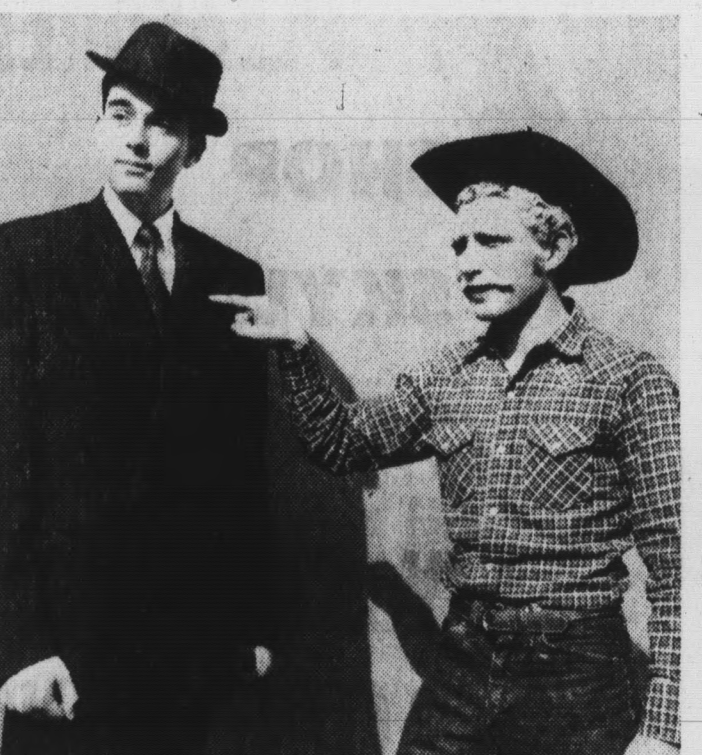

For ticket reservations call 359-5031 between 3 o'clock and 6 o'clock, and after 6, 359-3327. Tickets for the first four rows are $1.50. General admission is $1.

TERRA NOVA's TIGER TALES is on sale once again, featuring a section devoted to this new era many call "psychedelic." Some of the stories included in this section are: a story of the music from Presley to the present, by Joanne Gribble; a story of the marijuana conflict—helpful, harmful or hopeless? by Gregg Beeman; the transcendental existence of the body and the of the soul (A scoop on the meditation and the microbiotic diets so many are practicing) by Teresa Lazzaro; the mindbending arts and fashions — the sights you feel in the psychedelic world, by this writer.

Also included are stories on teen buying power, the possibilities of flexible scheduling at T.N., and Julie Prowse, a girl from England, now attending Terra Nova. Tiger Tales is available to the public in several Pacifica stores.

STUDENT PLAYERS, Lanny Dryden and Dave Folis, rehearse their roles in Terra Nova High's "The Time of Your Life," to be staged April 26 and 27, and May 2, 3, and 4.

Three grand prizes will be awarded, in addition to 83 balloon prizes at the dance, most of which were donated by the local merchants in Daly City. Colma, South San Francisco and San Bruno according to Mrs. Dennis Criddle, dance chairman and Mrs. Dennis Connell, co-chairman.

Mrs. Gary Stroth is donation chairman and Mrs. Joan Murray is in charge of the decorations.

The non-profit, parent participation co-operative nursery school hopes to raise funds for relandscaping its play yard.

Tickets may be obtained by calling the Village Nursery School, or tickets will be available at the door.

The Westmoor Whirl Varied Thursday Activity Planned for 'Open House'

Everything from old-fashioned chocolate chip cookies to ozalid machines will greet parents of Westmoor High students Thursday night when the school holds its annual open house, in conjunction with Public Schools Week.

Such fancy baking creations as French petitcous, mint ripples, peanut blossoms, and applesauce nut bread will be offered by homemaking's foods students for parental sampling. In addition, students will demonstrate their baking talents, as they make and later serve chocolate chip cookies. One student will demonstrate her method of making paper roses which can be used on many occasions as decorative additions.

Clothing students, in addition to demonstrating their talents on sewing machines, will display garments of their own making including skirts, blouses, dresses, suits, and coats.

Westmoor's auto shop students will be at work tuning up a V-8 engine and working on a car under the lube rack. Supplementing the demonstrations of their auto shop work will be displays of home projects having to do with some part of an automobile.

Such things as fuel pumps, master cylinders, and ignition systems have been built by the students who painted each part of their project a different color for purposes of easy identifications and explanations of how parts work.

Electronics students will display and operate a computer which does continuity testing. In addition, student-built amplifiers, intercoms, and two and six transistor radios will be on display. Students will do some basic electronics experiments for parents as well as demonstrating their electronic sirens.

A demonstration of vacuum forming will be offered by plastics students. One method of forming plastics into usable objects, vacuum forming, will be used Thursday night to form various shapes of bowls. Other students will be casting with plastic, forming trivets. Augmenting the demonstrations will be displays of jewelry made from scraps of plastic.

In the metal shop room, student projects ranging from a mold for making sinkers for fishing to scotch tape dispensers and paper punches for office use, will be on display. Students will be working on the lathe, as well as doing welding work, casting and working with sheet metals. Such artistic items as lamps and such mechanical items as hammers and chisels, all student made, will be on display.

A circus atmosphere will prevail in the physical education department as several activities will be presented at once. Members of boys' P.E. will take over the trampolines for the night and in addition the tumbling mats as they offer demonstrations in both areas.

Girls, meanwhile, will be presenting a Swedish gymnastics routine as well as individual stunts done on the uneven bars, the vaulting horse, and the balance beam. A demonstration of the girls' putting talents will also be offered. All the action will stop, however, for a modern dance routine done by girls enrolled in dance classes.

Many of the examples of kinetic art, recently presented by Westmoorites on the CSM television station, will be on display in the art room.

Academic classrooms will also have displays ranging from Greek mythology to notebooks of foreign countries. Citizens attending Westmoor's Public Schools Week program will find deep involvement by the music department.

Under the direction of Howard Loeffler, vocal and instrumental students have been preparing for performances Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Together with their other performances the past few months, this will prepare the students for their performance May 3, in Westmoor's Gym, when the Westmoor music department will present its annual Spring Concert. A record crowd is expected.

Friday at 2:30 p.m., in the band room, Tri-M initiation will be held. The Modern Music Masters, a national honor music society, will number 44 members in its local chapter with the addition of five prospective initiates.

To be eligible, students must be recommended by the Tri-M officers and faculty advisor, have a certain academic standing, have been active in the Music Department, and show qualities of leadership and devotion.

After their credentials have been approved at national headquarters, the students undergo an apprentice period and are tested on their knowledge of music and knowledge of the organization and its aims.

Mike Hinton, president of the local chapter of the Tri-M, will preside, together with faculty advisor Loeffler.

Robert Addison, outstanding blind musician, with an A.B. degree in music, will bring a jazz combo to entertain.

Parents are urged to attend.

A number of Westmoor High School music students participated in the solo-ensemble on the campus of the College of San Mateo.

Westmoor's name appeared among the many prominent high schools of the area, such as Sequoia, Crestmoor, Burlingame, Capuchino, Mills, San Carlos, and Menlo-Atherton.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Repeat Performance

Good morning, good cooks. I received a "help! help!" letter from a loyal reader who lost the recipe for this delicious lemon gelatin cake. I know how maddening it is to lose a favorite recipe and so am glad to repeat it here for you, Mrs. Mack.

LORETTO'S LEMON GELATIN CAKE

- 1 pkg. yellow cake mix
- 4 eggs
- 3/4 cup water
- 3/4 cup oil
- 1 pkg. lemon gelatin

Combine the one package cake mix with the four eggs, three-fourths cup each water and oil and the one package lemon gelatin in a large bowl and beat two minutes with electric mixer.

Pour into a well greased 9x13-inch pan. Bake 30 to 40 minutes in 350-degree oven.

While the cake is baking make a sauce of the following ingredients.

SAUCE

- 2 scant cups powdered sugar, sifted
- Juice of two lemons

Immediately on taking the baked cake from the oven, poke holes all through the top with a fork (the more holes the merrier), and pour the lemon sauce over the cake. The sauce will seep down through the holes and make the richest lemon cake you ever tasted.

THIS WAS Good Cooks in Distress Week. Another friend called to ask about a bread to serve with afternoon tea. I immediately thought of this delightful bread that is so easy to make, tasty and has eye appeal with colorful candied fruit mixed through it.

CRAZY QUILT BREAD

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 cups biscuit mix
- 1 egg
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon anise seeds
- 1/2 cup mixed candied fruit
- 3/4 cup nuts, chopped

Heat your oven to 350 degrees. Grease a loaf pan, approximately 9x5x2-inches.

In mixing bowl combine the one-half cup sugar with the three cups biscuit mix. Combine the egg with the one and one-fourth cups milk and beat, then pour into the dry ingredients. Beat vigorously for 30 seconds. (the dough will be lumpy). Blend in the one teaspoon anise seeds, one-half cup candied fruit and three-fourths cup chopped nuts. Pour into prepared pan and bake. The top of the bread will crack as it bakes, this is typical of this kind of bread.

Allow to cool completely before slicing. Served plain this bread is delicious. Or you may butter thin slices or use softened cream cheese as a sandwich filling.

SINCE WE ARE TALKING ABOUT baking I'd like to include this recipe for some delightfully rich cookies.

PENUCHE SQUARES

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 pkg. semi-sweet chocolate bits (6-ounce)
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Melt the one-fourth cup butter and beat in the one cup brown sugar. Cool slightly. Add the egg and one-half teaspoon vanilla and beat until mixture is light and fluffy. Stir in the one cup flour sifted together with the one teaspoon baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt.

Lightly stir in the one package chocolate bits and one-half cup nuts and spread mixture evenly in greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for about 25 to 30 minutes. Do not overbake. Cool and cut into one-inch squares.

IF YOU ARE A SWEETS FANCIER, as I am, you probably like to save your calories for dessert and try to avoid starches as much as possible. This next casserole fits nicely into such a plan, it's full of low calorie vegetables and ground meat, an interesting combination of tomatoes and spices.

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 can tomatoes (No. 2 size can)
- 1 medium zucchini
- 1/2 green pepper, minced
- 2 onions, medium, cut fine
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon basil
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese

Brown the one pound ground beef in the three tablespoons butter. Stir in the three tablespoons flour and add the one No. 2 size can tomatoes, one-half, minced green pepper, two chopped onions, bay leaf, one-half teaspoon basil, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and one teaspoon salt. Cook slowly for 10 minutes.

While the sauce is cooking slice the six zucchini into a low buttered casserole and sprinkle with three tablespoons of the Parmesan cheese. Pour the meat sauce over and sprinkle the remaining three tablespoons cheese over top. Bake uncovered in 350-degree oven for one hour.

May Day Luncheon Set

The San Mateo County YWCA announced plans for their May Day Luncheon today.

This is being prepared by the Ladies Luncheon League and will be held at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, Eighty-seventh Street, Colma, at noon.

Proceeds will go to the YWCA for use in their various projects.

Child care is also available at a small charge.

In preparing for this luncheon, the YW-Wives Club made bird cage decorations, which some lucky ladies will take home with them. There will also be door prizes and samples of the different food products used in the luncheon.

At the present time the YWCA's Committee for the Luncheon is composed of Mesdames Collins Orton, Robert McBride, Ernest McAlpen, Raymond Peters, Laurence Long, John Du Bus, Gerald Williams, and John Sheppard. For reservations, contact the YWCA at 375 So. Mayfair, Room 217, Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City.

Mrs. Futrell Is Y-Wife Of the Week

Mrs. Carrie Futrell, 51 Baldwin, Daly City, was chosen YW-Wife of the Week for April 21 through 28.

Carrie, her husband Richard, and their three children Nanette, Renee and Larry have been Daly City residents for several years.

Futrell is head contract clerk in the law department in the San Francisco office of the Southern Pacific.

Carrie who has modeled at different Y events, is treasurer for the YW-Wives Club.

Carrie enjoys the different activities of the YW-Wives and brings her two smaller children to its Nursery. The YW-Wives meet every Thursday from 10 to 12 noon at the Westlake Community Baptist Church, Elmwood and Southgate, Daly City.

Plans for the next few meetings are:

April 24 — Decorations for the May Day luncheon will be finished.

May 2 — Mrs. Helen Kinell will talk about how to beautify a home with decorated window shades.

May 9 — A representative from Mattel Toymakers will tell about their newest line of toys.

Car Rolls Over Tot In S.S.F.

Two South San Francisco children were seriously hurt in separate automobile mishaps Sunday. Both were admitted to hospitals.

The younger child was seriously injured Sunday morning when a car rolled over his body in the driveway of his home.

Five-year-old Craig Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hess, 649 Zita Street, was reported in fair condition at Mary's Help Hospital, where he is undergoing treatment for internal injuries.

Police said the child and his grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Beaubry, stepped out of his mother's automobile, and the car rolled backwards in the driveway.

A door knocked the child down and a front wheel of the car rolled over his abdomen, according to the police report.

A second South San Francisco child was struck down by an automobile Sunday morning when he rode a bicycle into the wrong side of the street on Fairway Drive.

Five-year-old Matthew Slombrouck, 139 Knoll Circle, was admitted to Peninsula Hospital after the accident occurred at 11 a.m.

Officers said the car, driven by William W. Dagler of San Bruno, was traveling at about 20 m.p.h. when the accident occurred near the intersection of Fairway Drive and Knoll Circle.

Seven Areas Of 'Poverty' Aid in Jobs

Residents in each of seven San Mateo County poverty areas are taking part in the development of summer job programs for disadvantaged youth.

The Human Resources Commission Thursday approved a plan proposed by its executive director, George T. Riley, under which the community action council in each area would appoint a committee to develop work programs.

Riley said the plan would get the communities more involved and more nearly meet local needs than if the program were developed by the county agency.

The commission balked, however, at Riley's suggested allocation of the 70 jobs to be provided: Four for Pacifica, 13 for Daly City, ten for South San Francisco, eight for San Mateo, 11 for Redwood City, 20 for East Palo Alto-East Menlo Park, and four for the Coastside. That part of Riley's proposal was left open for further discussion.

Riley said $56,000 in federal Office of Economic Opportunity funds will be available for the program this summer, compared with $73,000 last summer. The HRC has also applied for $66,000 in county funds for summer jobs for youth but how much will be budgeted by the County Board of Supervisors will not be known until June.

The local committee in each area, which will represent a broad cross-section of the community, will be responsible for assigning its own work project, selecting the youth, soliciting local assistance, making sure the program operates well, and making an evaluation report upon its completion. A program has already been submitted by the Redwood City CAC.

The project will start July 1 and go for nine weeks. The wage will be $1.40 an hour, with project supervisors and team leaders getting $2.25 an hour.

D.C. Mother Of Five Dies In Accident

A Daly City mother of five was killed Wednesday in an auto crash on the Great Highway in San Francisco.

Mary Jonas, 37, of 889 Skyline Drive, died while firemen worked to free her from the wreckage of her car, which hit a two foot high concrete wall along the highway near Golden Gate Park Drive. Police said the car went out of control while going about 60 mph at 2 a.m.

A passenger, Charlotte de Cambra, 29, was reported in serious condition at Mission Emergency Hospital with internal and leg injuries.

Mrs. Jonas was the wife of Herman Jones, a seaman on a tanker. She leaves five children, Sue, 3, Santa, 6, Rebecca, 9, Redwin, 15, and Rosemary, 16.

Christal To Speak

Neil Christal, San Bruno attorney and councilman, will be guest speaker at the Pacific Heights Association's general meeting to be held Wednesday evening, May 1, at 7:30 p.m. His topic will be "Wills" with emphasis on the importance of having one.

On the agenda for the same evening will be the presentation of the 1968 Courtesy Award Scholarship to a deserving Oceana High School senior who resides in the community of Pacific Heights.

D.C. Book Review Thursday Morning

The Friends of the Daly City Library will present a book review by library staffer Mrs. William Roay in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library, 275 Southgate Avenue at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Roay, who is a graduate of San Francisco State College, will speak about the present generation gap. She plans to let the American Youth defend themselves by letting them present their own cases through books written by themselves.

She will include such books as "Free Wheelin' Frank," by Jean Carper. Current problems such as the draft, drugs and racial tensions will be discussed.

Hostesses for the coffee hour which precedes the review from 10-10:30 a.m. will be Mrs. Win-Josselyn and Mrs. Theodore West. The public is invited without charge.

Art Carney, co-star of "The Honeymooners" on "The Jackie Gleason Show," will star as a shy middle-aged suitor in "Lovers," an Irish play to be presented at New York's Lincoln Center for eight weeks this summer.

2 Brothers Suspects In D.C. Robbery

Two brothers were arrested yesterday in Virginia in connection with the robbery last month of the American Savings and Loan office in Daly City.

The FBI arrested Melvin Dale Walker, 27, and Glennan Dean Walker, 31, following the attempted holdup in Norfolk, Va., it was learned here.

Both men had been suspects in a series of armed robberies that spread across the nation—from Virginia to California.

The brothers are specifically charged with four robbery holdups, in Norfolk, St. Louis and Daly City.

Detective Les Bastedo said the pair's activities during their week-long stay in this area was traced from their arrival, in January from Missouri, to the time they allegedly robbed the loan company and escaped with some $1,600 in cash.

FT. SILL, Okla. — Army Private Michael A. Reyes, 18, whose mother, Mrs. Margaret Ruiz, lives at 995 Serena Drive, Pacifica, completed eight weeks of advanced artillery training April 12 at the Army Artillery and Missile School, Ft. Sill, Okla.

A Widening Gap?

FLASHY FLASH — Is that gap on the Daly City council getting wider? Latest reports are that business partners (and fellow councilmen) Michael DeBernardi and Frank Pacelli are in the process of splitting.

ATTORNEY BOB HUNTER has rekindled the car wash fire that raged for several months on the corner of Market and Hillside streets in Daly City. Hunter's most recent barrage was leveled at statements made by the city at a county meeting concerning construction of a similar car wash near the new Civic Center (in the county adjacent to Daly City) on Eighty-ninth Street. The city didn't want the car wash built because it would downgrade the area, the report indicates.

"They don't want a car wash built near the city hall, but it's apparently okay to have one right next to a residential area on a C-1 lot," Hunter argues.

DURING CEREMONIES at the city hall in D.C. following the recent elections, incumbent city Treasurer Joe Lewkowitz apologized to the audience attending the function "for my family taking up so many seats." We lost count at 14 and now we know how Joe got so many votes.

NOTHING NEW FOR RFK — That shouting contest at San Francisco State during presidential candidate Bobby Kennedy's talk there last week are nothing new for the New York senator. We can recall several years ago at Tokyo's Waseda University when a group of Zengakuren students rushed the stage and tried to throw him out. Like their counterparts at SFS, the Waseda students later sent a letter of apology to RFK.

SICK CALL — SSF Emilio Cortesi, who recently completed 22 years on that city council, is in Mary's Help recovering from what a spokesman called "a heart condition."

TWO MORE OF D.C.'s fine officers leaving for something else. Can't give out their names, but one of 'em had a cocktail named after him.

ON AGAIN OFF AGAIN — County offices told Muni Judge Charles Becker that the Old City Hall (on Wellington in D.C.) would be ready for occupancy by his court on 19 April. When the judge arrived at the newly remodeled building he turned around and walked back out again. No desks, no flooring, no no . . . And so the Good Judge will try once again next week. Hopefully the floor will at least be in by then.

BIG HUSH HUSH Grand Jury investigation going on over in Brisbane. Promises to shake the very foundations of the city . . . again. So what else is new? . . . Some forces still moving for annexation of that Bayside town to fast-growing Daly City. The idea looks better and better to many people in both areas.

BE SURE TO TAKE a look at the dump the city of Daly City sponsors along the SP right-of-way across from the Lake Merced Golf Course. Officials explain it will someday be a first-class maintenance yard after a concrete retaining wall is built. Let's hope they hurry up with that wall — or something to hide the mess blowing around.

SAMUEL CHANDLER

(Daly City Librarian)

Digesting the Census

The November 1967 Census of the City of Daly City is now ready for distribution at $2 a copy.

According to the dictionary, a census is an official enumeration of the people with special reference to statistics concerning them. There are 65,213 people in Daly City. They live in 20,877 household units with an average population of 3.12 people per household.

As to other statistics, the special census reveals that there are 2,411 more females than males in Daly City. There are 6,888 people between five and nine years old, 6,243 between 10 and 14, 6,557 under four, 5,188 between 15 and 19 and 5,572 between 20 and 24.

If my arithmetic is correct, that means that 24,876 people in Daly City are under twenty years old — over 38 per cent of the population. The median age is 26.

To a large extent Daly City is the home of professional and technical people, of managers and of craftsmen and foremen. A great number of its people work in downtown San Francisco than anywhere else.

OF THE PEOPLE who would give the census takers a statement of their incomes, the greatest number were making between $10,000 and $14,999 per year. The next greatest number were in the $8,000-$9,999 class. The number making $15,000 to $19,999 is greater than the number making $3,000 to $3,999. The number who make over $20,000 is 442.

While we hear of people moving in and out of Daly City, over a third — 8,000 — of the families have lived in the same house in Daly City for over five years. Two-thirds of the people live in single housing units.

Eighteen thousand, one-hundred and seventy-seven households are occupied by Caucasians. The next highest group is Mexican-Americans and the next by Negro Americans and the next by Oriental Americans.

All of this information comes from the first page of the November census. There is much more on the first page and very much more on the remaining 16 pages.

To make the count, the Office of Planning divided the city into 15 areas and in each area counted seven variables — age and six characteristics, race by households, occupations of chief wage earners, areas of work, residence of the head of households five years ago, gross yearly income of all persons living in housing units and housing characteristics.

IT IS WORTH NOTING that people with high incomes live in every part of the city. While the greatest number live north of Alemany; east of Junipero Serra, a good share of high income people live in the areas that contain the most non-Caucasian families.

Daly City — it appears — is becoming a racially integrated community. Income more than anything else seems to determine where people live. Yet even there, there is no real segregation between rich and poor — as I have observed above.

The last census of Daly City of the magnitude of the November census was the federal count of 1960 when Daly City's population was 44,791. The new count was made as part of the general plan for Daly City. It will pinpoint accuracy for reports, for taxation and for planning.

It was directed by the Office of Planning of the City of Daly City with Franz Von Uckermann in charge.

COPIES OF THE CENSUS may be purchased from the Daly City clerk whose office is in the Civic Center, 90th and Sullivan Streets, Daly City.

A copy has been placed in the Reserve Section of Westlake, John D. Daly and Bayshore branches of the Daly City Public Library.

"How ya going to keep them down in Timbuctu after they've seen New York?" might be the title of the scientific world's lament about the brain drain from the undeveloped to the developed countries of the world.

For some years, the United States, Canada and Australia have been the favored recipients of highly trained manpower emigrating from all corners of the world.

Doctors, scientists, teachers, managers and other professional people have been leaving Africa, Latin America and parts of Europe for greener pastures in the more economically advanced nations.

Their reasons for leaving their homeland are many. Some see utter futility in their native lands, others far greater chance of achievement in the leading scientific capitals of the world. Almost all have the pursuit of a better life for their family at least as a secondary reason for their decision.

Western nations — including the United States and Canada — have attempted to aid the underdeveloped countries by training professionals hoping they would return to their homelands to start a nucleus of scientific advancement.

But frequently, by the time the person being trained reaches a level of competence where he could be of use to his countrymen, he has grown attached to his new surroundings and disdains going home. Or, if he was trained on his home grounds, it is not long before he sets his sights on more rewarding challenges elsewhere.

The Advisory Committee on the Application of Science and Technology to Development, founded in 1963 to bring together in undeveloped countries, has sponsored a seminar at the United Nations between U.S. and Canadian scientists.

To remove the feeling of isolation young scientists in undeveloped countries have, and otherwise persuade them to ply their profession at home was the subject of the seminar. From it came a few new ideas and a renewed determination to plant the seed of science throughout the world and nurture it to maturity.

Reason for the Date

Do you wonder why you will vote on the "first Tuesday after the first Monday" in November?

Congress back in 1792 set the first Wednesday in December as the day on which the electors of the various states would cast their votes for president. It allowed the electors to be chosen by their respective states at any time in the 34 days before that scheduled December meeting.

That resulted in a wide variation of election dates. Some states made their presidential choice late in October while some could wait until early in December. In close elections the political parties could sometimes send their followers into the last few states to vote a second time.

Also, in a landslide election, a candidate might win before some states had even voted, making their balloting superfluous. This actually happened in 1840 when William Henry Harrison was elected before seven of the 26 states then in the Union had held their elections.

So Congress in January, 1845, decided a uniform date would have to be set. Members agreed it would be in early November when all the crops were in but before the heavy snows of winter.

So the date was finally set for "the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November." That's why election day this year comes on November 5.

Hard Road to Peace

Hanoi is confirming expectations that the road to a negotiated peace in Vietnam will be long and hard.

In the two weeks since its announced willingness to talk, Hanoi has held to the typical communist tactic of interposing conditions calculated to make acceptance difficult.

The first step — where to place the conference table — ought to be fairly elementary. But Hanoi complicated it by ignoring an American list of five locations in Asia and Europe, and proposing Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

When the United States objected that it lacked diplomatic relations and thus adequate communications there, the North Vietnamese coolly suggested Warsaw.

That would give the United States access to an embassy of its own, but would place the talks behind the Iron Curtain.

Legalize Pot?

A RECENT POLL at Terra Nova High School in Pacifica on whether or not use of marijuana should be legalized showed that 80 per cent of the senior girls polled thought affirmatively.

The results were carried in the current issue of Tiger Tales, whose student staff went psychedelic in design.

Fifty-six per cent of the T.N. student body responded.

Other results of the survey: In contrast to the senior girls' opinion, the senior boys only 56 per cent of the senior boys contacted favored marijuana use legalization.

Other "yes" percentages: Ninth grade — boys 33, girls 50; tenth grade — boys 61, girls 66; eleventh — boys 50, girls 33.

IN ANOTHER Tiger Tales poll (of 5½ per cent of the T.N. student body), it was indicated that while "spending by youth today has reached an all time high," the average TN girl has an income of $7.42 a week; the average TN boy, $7.33 weekly.

The article pointed out that on the national average (recorded in 1964) a teen girl receives only $7 weekly, but the average teen boy over $8.

And as one would expect, highest on the "what does it go for" list for girls is . . . clothing — 67½ per cent

ED CEREGHINO, vice principal at Jefferson High, acting on behalf of Principal Ernest Ribera, who was unable to attend the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Friday night, after a heavy round of applause as he appeared to introduce Jeff's top scholars, noted:

"That's probably the best hand I've had since I left baseball!"

Cereghino, who signed with the N.Y. Yankees for something like 75-grand as a "bonus baby" back in the 50's, is a Jefferson product.

A PERSONAL NOTE on the chamber's annual recognition of D.C.'s outstanding scholars: That event probably is the C of C's worthiest program. Congratulations, parents, scholars, teachers and chamber!

Swimming Pools

A few years ago a swimming pool was the status symbol of a movie star. Today there are 500,000 "in ground" pools, two million portable pools and an estimated ten million plastic wading pools in the United States.

This year many more homeowners, with sufficient equity in their homes to warrant a bank loan, will succumb to their desire for a pool. If you are thinking of staying home and spending your vacation building your back yard pool, consider carefully what you are letting yourself in for. Are you equipped to do the work? Labor for such a job is expensive and may far exceed the estimated total cost.

Who will you select to build your pool? It will pay off to shop for quality and not for a bargain-priced pool. The media today is filled with pictures of beautiful pools advertised at attractive prices.

IF YOU ARE the type that shops by pictures alone, remember, it is very important to read the words in the ad. Even though a pool is within the dream of many families today, it still remains a luxury item and represents a substantial outlay of money, both in the original cost and the maintenance.

Check the pool builder's background. Does the company have sound financial backing to the able to give good service and fulfill future warranties? The new owner of an established, reputable firm was forced through mismanagement to leave the work on some 349 pools unfinished. The choice of finishing the pool, or of covering over the naked hole in the ground left to the individual homeowner, who, in many cases, had already paid most of the cost of the building of the pool.

Will the installation be completed for the price quoted or will there be an extra charge for leveling and otherwise preparing the site? It is important that the design complement the architecture of the home or other structures and should blend in with the surrounding terrain and landscaping.

How large a pool do you want? Some advertisers state the dimensions as "O.D.", meaning outside dimension or overall dimension. Such advertisements are therefore not disclosing the swimming area of the entire complex.

ANOTHER FACTOR to consider is the depth of the pool in relation to the desired depth of the water it will hold. Be sure the pool is deep enough for adequate safety. You may not dive but your guests may.

Do not be rushed into signing a contract for something you are not sure of! If you have a particular pool at a particular price in mind, insist upon getting it.

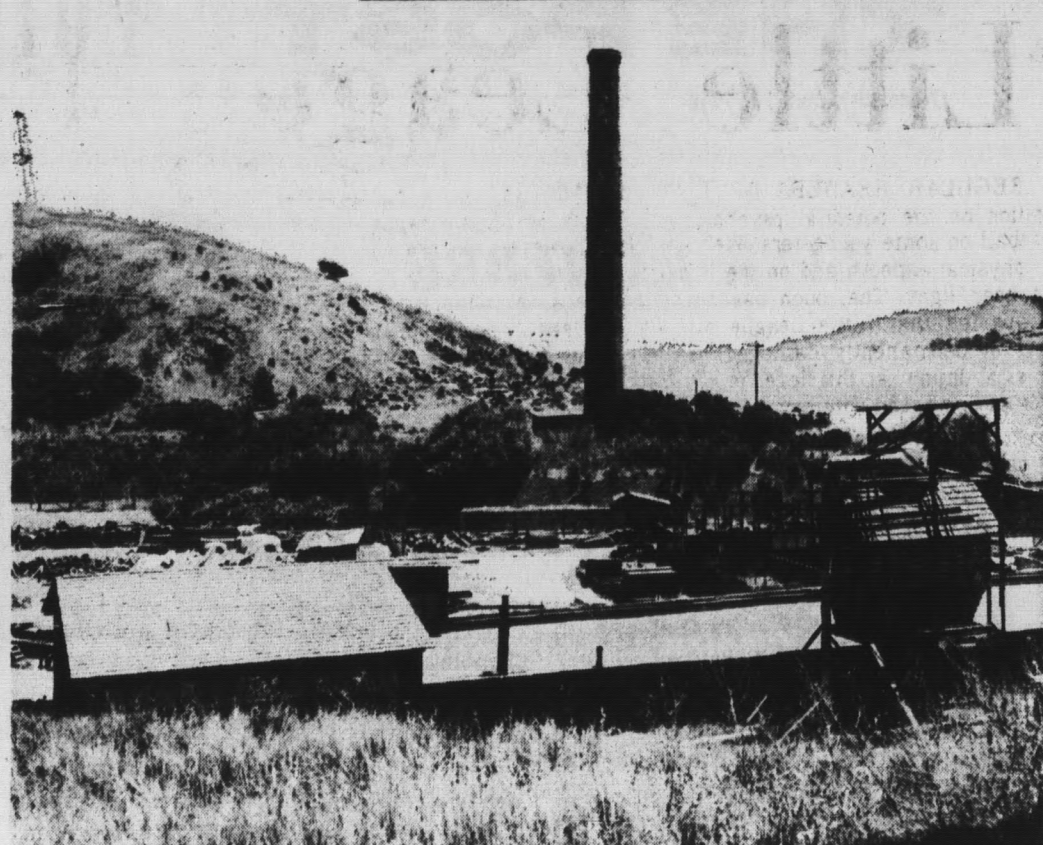

If the salesman disparages the product, tells you that you should not take the one you are interested in because of its poor quality, or that particular model is not available because the company has had trouble with the construction — watch out for Bait and Switch operation!

ROBERT POWER, an amateur historian, criticized the "Portola Discovery Theory" Friday at a Senate subcommittee hearing at San Francisco's Presidio.

on San Quentin Point not far from where the famous "Drake Plate of Brass" was discovered in 1936. Power told a Senate subcommittee in San Francisco Friday San Francisco Bay was discovered by Drake in 1579, and not by Don Gaspar de Portola in 1769.

WEIGHTY EVIDENCE — County Supervisor Mrs. Jean Fassler, Rev. Maynard Geiger, O.F.M., and Dr. Theodore Treutlein recently retraced the steps of Capt. Gaspar Portola's expedition in 1769 from San Mateo's coast to the spot on Sweeney Ridge from which San Francisco Bay was first sighted. The recent retracing of the route was in preparation for a U.S. Senate subcommittee hearing in San Francisco Friday at which San Mateo County's Portola Bicentennial Foundation urged formal U.S. recognition of the discovery site.

Drake vs. Portola-Who Discovered Bay?

BY DON GRIERSON

An amateur historian from Nut Tree threw a Senate subcommittee hearing into a quandary Friday with a presentation supporting the theory that Sir Francis Drake, and not Don Gaspar de Portola, discovered San Francisco Bay.

Robert H. Power, 42-year-old co-owner of the Nut Tree Restaurant near Vacaville and self-described "foremost authority on the subject of 'Drake in California,'" was the final and most dramatic witness at a Presidio meeting of the Senate subcommittee on parks and recreation.

Power challenged the portion of a bill proposed by Senator Thomas H. Kuchel which seeks to "authorize the establishment of the site of the discovery of San Francisco Bay as a national historical site, and for other purposes."

"I propose that the words 'site of discovery' be deleted," he said, "and the words, 'Portola Discovery Site,' be inserted in their place."

"The reason it is necessary that this simple, but vital, change be made in the language of the bill is that 'the Portola Discovery Site of San Francisco Bay' is, in fact, not the site of the discovery of San Francisco Bay," Power said.

According to his theory, arrived at after more than 14 years of research and travel, Drake sailed his famous "Golden Hind" into the San Francisco Bay June 17, 1579, 190 years before Portola's "discovery" of the Bay from Sweeney Ridge in what is now Pacifica in November, 1769.

Not only did Drake "certainly precede Portola" in discovering the Bay, according to Power, but the area is accurately described in at least two other "pre-Portola" sources.

One of these is the diary of a Portuguese pilot who presumably sailed with Drake, N. de Morena, and the other is derived from the working chart of a Manila galleon captured in 1743 by Commodore George Anson of the British Navy.

Power claims that Drake depicted San Francisco Bay on his charts as "Nova Albion," a name derived from the area's topographical resemblance to the white cliffs of Dover in his native England.

Though practically none of California's recognized historians (who are "completely stymied" by Drake, according to Power) agree with the amateur historian, he said British scholars found his theories "perfectly rational, and at least as acceptable as any other," on a recent trip to England.

Power said the fact that California was depicted as an island on early European maps plainly indicated Drake's circumnavigation of the globe included a visit to San Francisco Bay.

"Early cartographers conceived of California as a large island off the West Coast of America," he said.

"This plainly indicates to me that they conceived of San Francisco Bay as a body of water adjoining the Bay of California between Baja California and the mainland."

"This misconception was probably derived from early reports from the Drake expedition," he suggested.

Power exhibited two photographs at the hearing: One of a sketch "probably taken from the deck of the Golden Hind and later reproduced by Arnold Montanua, and the other a recent photograph made by the author from Point San Quentin.

The two photographs exhibit a startling similarity in topographical outline.

"This sketch of the North Bay Area was what first sparked my interest in the question of who actually discovered San Francisco Bay," Power said, "and I have found considerable evidence to support my theory of the Drake discovery during the past 14 years."

He said the modern photograph was taken from a point on the San Quentin Peninsula about one-quarter mile from the site where the famous "Drake Plate of Brass" was discovered in 1936.

This document, supposedly signed and implanted by Sir Francis Drake himself, is "the oldest public document in the Americas using the English language, and it established the first exploration to the mainland of North America," according to Power.

He is convinced that the date of June 17, 1579, inscribed upon the brass plate commemorates Drake's passage through the Golden Gate, and "instead of a 200-year anniversary celebration next year, we should wait ten years and hold a 400-year anniversary celebration of the San Francisco Bay discovery."

The Senate subcommittee hearing Friday was called to accept testimony for and against creation of a Portola discovery site National Monument bill, a Skyline National Parkway bill, and a bill to make Fort Point a national monument.

Senator Kuchel introduced all the bills, and he and Senator Alan Bible, chairman of the Senate parks and recreation subcommittee, presided.

More than a score of San Mateo County officials, including Supervisor James Fitzgerald and Assemblyman Leo Ryan, spoke in favor of national recognition for the Portola Discovery Site and the proposed Skyline Parkway through the San Francisco Watershed area.

Congressman Paul N. McCloskey, officials from Santa Clara County, and representatives from a number of Bay Area historical and conservation groups also spoke in favor of Senator Kuchel's bills.

'Little League Pitchers Risk Arm Damage'

REGULAR READERS OF THIS COLUMN well know our position on the potential psychological effects of Little League baseball on some youngsters. We've seldom, however, touched on the physical aspects, and on the few occasions we have, the touch has been light. The touch has been light because, while we've always felt that Little League pitchers, at least, certainly run risks of permanently damaged arms, it's been our belief that physical injury at this level is minimal in both chance and degree as compared with psychological injury.

For those interested in the physical facet of Little League "damage," what follows are excerpts from a report by Joel E. Adams, M.D., as it appeared in "California Medicine" in February, 1965:

"X-ray studies were made of both elbows of 162 boys in the 9 to 14 year age group, divided into three categories: pitchers, non-pitchers, and a control group who had never played organized baseball.

"Changes involving the medial epicondylar epiphyses and opposing articular surfaces of the capitulum and head of radius in the throwing arm appeared to be in direct proportion to the amount and type of throwing. The most striking changes were in the arms of pitchers. Some degree of accelerated growth, separation and fragmentation of the medial epicondylar epiphyses was noted in the throwing arm of all 80 pitchers in the study.

"Better medical supervision and stress on prevention are needed, especially in the Southern California area where climatic conditions favor prolonged seasons and throwing practice the year around."

"If we may interrupt the doctor: the above point is exactly the one we made in a column several years ago in which we pointed out that most major league pitchers are from 'four season' areas of the country because they don't have to throw all year around like Californians, and therefore have more pitches in their arms.)

"Throwing a baseball hard," continues the doctor, "especially as required by pitchers, is a relatively abnormal activity of the arm and it puts an unusual repetitious strain on wrist, shoulder and elbow. The elbow joint . . . is forcefully whipped from a position of acute flexion into complete extension with either pronation of the forearm or (if throwing a curve ball) supination and ulnar flexion of the wrist.

THIS LATTER MANEUVER puts additional traction strain on the medial epicondylar of the humerus which is the point of attachment of the pronator and flexor muscles of the forearm. Since the epiphyses are still open at this age, the epicondylar is weakly attached to the humerus and, therefore, quite vulnerable to repeated forceful pull of the muscles.

"Baseball coaches and managers argue that many sore arms are due to wrong throwing motions or failure to warm up properly, which is often true in adults. In youngsters 9 to 14 of age, however, regardless of the throwing motion, it is quite obvious that the un-united epiphyses must still be subjected to the pull of the attached muscles. The opposing articular surfaces of the joint are also subjected to repeated trauma from excessive throwing.

Trauma of this kind can eventually bring about osteochondritic changes with exfoliation of the cartilage. This is the cause of loose bodies and bone chips so commonly found in professional pitchers, but rarely seen in youngsters of this age group before the advent of organized baseball programs for them . . . Several enthusiastic fathers have admitted building pitching mounds in their back yards so that their boys might practice."

A questionnaire administered by Dr. Adams disclosed that 85 percent of the young pitchers threw curve balls, that 98 percent played other positions when not pitching, and that 88 percent threw at home and during the off-season. Only 45 percent, however, claimed sore arms, only 27 percent reported their sore arms to coaches or parents, and just 12 percent were medically examined.

Dr. Adams notes that it's probable that a higher percentage than 45 had sore arms but didn't report them because of apprehension that to admit a sore arm might prevent them from playing. This theory seems borne out by the fact that of the youngsters who admitted to sore arms for the survey, only 27 percent reported it to coaches or parents.

AFTER THE SURVEY follows a series of typical case studies which tell sadly of deformed arms, surgery at 12, a possible lifetime of pain, "retirements" at age 14, even of one boy who quit at 13 and two years later still had elbow pain when he threw newspapers on his route.

Dr. Adams goes on to tell the reader that he should not trust Little League statistics on sore arms, because the statistics are misleading due to failures to report or investigate elbow soreness. He says that arm complications reach their peak at ages 13 to 14.

Dr. Adams concludes his report with a list of recommendations for treatment of the problem:

1. Establish medical advisory boards at national and local levels.
2. Educate and alert parents, coaches, administrators and family physicians.
3. Encourage youngsters to report elbow pain or soreness immediately, with reassurance that doing so does not always mean that they cannot play anymore.
4. Discourage youngsters from practicing pitching at home . . . and after baseball season.
5. Abolish curve ball throwing at this age.
6. Shorten the playing season.
7. Restrict pitchers to two innings per game (until ages 14 to 17, depending on the individual).
8. Divide Little League into two groups — one for 9 and 10 year olds, the other for 11 and 12 year olds.

DON'T FORGET THE TITANIC tomorrow night at Terra Nova (8 p.m.) involving the Terra Nova Faculty and the 49er basketball teams.

Main 49er cagers are Monty Stickle, Kermit Alexander, Roland Lakes, Alvin Randolph, Gary Lewis and Clark Miller. That's a team average of 228 pounds (6-2 height), when they're in shape. Right now they're probably going at 240. It may be the only team in captivity without a backcourt.

Admission is $1.50 for adults, $1.25 students, $1 students with student body cards, and .50c for children under 12.

AND A BELATED KUDOO to Al Figone and the Tiger varsity baseball team. They pulled what in retrospect may be the Bay Area prep baseball upset of the year when they clobbered San Francisco's Lincoln High to take the annual Terra Nova Easter Invitational tournament.

Lincoln is currently running rampant in the strong City league, sporting the loop's top five RBI men and five of the seven leading percentage hitters. Figone's kids beat them with hustle and that old coach's cliché which still holds water — Terra Nova wanted to win more than the perhaps overconfident Indians did. It was an ambush in the valley.

FORMER TIGER ALL-LEAGUE first sacker Marty Coil, signed last fall to a Giant contract, will be doing his slugging (hopefully) with Fresno of the California League this year, and has been promised a possible mid-season promotion to AA ball if the opportunity opens.

Dick Evert missed a tremendous triple-triplet series in the Golden Gate Handicap a league last Monday night as he rolled a 2-14 first game then shot two 217 games for a great 448 series as his team set a new high game mark for the league.

As the Spring-Summer Ladies' Invitational Trip League started Jan. Riney provided a target for the coming weeks as she rolled games of 223-248-213 and 190 for a big 744 series and a 218 average.

Bob Di Ricco shot his first 600 series and took high game and high series honors for the night in the B'nai B'rith League shooting 232 in his third game for a 614 series. Al Sims also topped the six hundred mark with 221 and 607.

The Lucky Leger Mixed League Mike Moore "shot up a storm" as he started with 226, rolled a 202 second game and finished with 203 for a great 631 series. Ruby Choy topped the ladies by shooting a 193 game and 599 series.

Noreen Matchelli was the leading lady in the Monday Blue Chip Bonanza taking home 1630 stamps. Second honors went to Margaret Cudde with 1040.

In the 850 Scratch League, Jim Britt led the scoring with a 221 game and 599 series.

There will be plenty of activity at Westlake next Saturday with the Champagne-Scotch Doubles set for 6:30 p.m. and the same Peterson Point Singles Tournament scheduled for 11 p.m. Rick Dreier and Frank Huber are the top scoring advance registrants for both events.

Donna Ravetti led the ladies with 179, 45 and Dick Ruse topped the men with 211-579 in the Westlake Merchants League last week.

Five ladies topped the 500 mark in the Morning Glory League led by Lorraine Piccoli with a great 232 game and 533 series. Other high rollers were Rose Ileschi 193-523, June Edgerton with 180-502, Alice Masini with 175-501 and Doty Sanguetti with 189 and 501.

John Conclio rolled two-thirds of a great triple-triplet series as he led the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League for the week. John rolled 213 in his first and third game with 220 in between for a big 646 series. Jim Pichler topped the second round with 221 and 607.

Leading the Blue Chip Stamp winners Thursday afternoon was Del Mize with 600 while Noreen Matchelli led Monday's Blue Chip Bonanza took home 1070 followed by Elaine Arto with 1060.

Marty Oster and Al Simons topped the Westlake Knolls League Wednesday night. Marty shooting 246-501-607-619 and Al a 600 series on a high game of 221.

Two bowlers in the APL-CIO League topped the 500 mark as scores continued to move up each week. Al Simons rolled a 637 series in games of 204-522 and 185 while Gene Frash shot 203-192 and 238 for a 631 series.

In the G.E.T. League, John Milani led the scoring with a 234 first game followed by 173 and 212 for a 617 series.

Frank Humert and Rick Dreier rolled increased interest in the Spring-Summer League now forming at Westlake.

Westmoor Edges Terra Nova, Still Eyes Title

Deciding Run On Wild Pitch

Westmoor High School stayed in the running for the North Peninsula Athletic League baseball crown Friday by edging Terra Nova 4-3 on the loser's diamond.

Tiger hurler Bob Turner fanned twelve Rams, but five errors and a wild pitch robbed him of victory.

The Rams scored the winning runs in the sixth with two out. Ron Jolly singled and stole second, and Grady Proctor knocked a ball through the third baseman's legs. Proctor then stole second. On the play, the catcher threw to third and hit Jolly on the head. Jolly scored as the ball caromed into left field. Proctor went to third on the play and scored on a wild pitch to provide the winning run.

Such are days that give coaches nightmares.

In the only other NPL game played Friday, South San Francisco defeated Oceana 4-1 to even both teams' records at 2-4.

The Warriors took the lead in the first inning. After a walk and an error, Ricky Walker came up and singled in two runs.

Walker, the hitting hero for the day, came back in the sixth stanza and doubled in another run.

Bruce Brian went all the way for the Warriors, scattering seven hits while striking out four.

Mills Wins In Season's 1st No-Hitter

Mills High School pitcher Mark Broschet topped Friday's Mid-Peninsula Athletic League baseball action with the season's first no-hit pitching performance.

Broschet gave up one unearned run and four walks to visiting Aragon as the Vikings won 3-1. The Vike hurler also chalked up seven strikeouts.

Mills jumped into the lead in the first inning, when Don Minklein doubled home two runs. The Vikes added an insurance run in the second, but Broschet's moundwork made it superfluous.

Something had to give when San Mateo travelled to Burlingame yesterday; both teams were undefeated in league play.

Bearcat pitcher Ron Spragia struck out twelve Panthers and allowed only four hits, but those four hits made the difference.

El Camino Nips Half Moon Bay

El Camino High School moved into a share of first place in the North Peninsula League Thursday by edging Half Moon Bay, 2-1, on the winner's diamond.

The Colts scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning when Bob Brusco reached first on an error, took second on another error and then scored on Frank Lucia's single to end the game.

The Cougars, the most improved team in the NPL this season, got their only run in the top of the sixth when Tom Evan

Jeff's Indians Win

The Jefferson Indians, tied for first place in the North Peninsula League baseball race, took a brief respite from the gruelling NPL wars Friday, much to the chagrin of Capuchino.

Coach Steve Mezzara's Indians blanked the Mustangs, 4-0, in a practice game on the Jeff diamond.

Bill Fisher handcuffed the "Tang" batters by scattering three hits while striking out four. John Handley Don Bel-luomini and Arnold Galaraza each drove in a run for the Indians.

The victory gave Jefferson a 10-3 overall record.

ence as Burlingame won 4-0 to Crestmoor set an all-time school record.

The Panthers' Tim Opezo led off the bottom half of the fourth inning with a triple. Paul Schmuck walked, then Bill Osborne doubled. Schmuck scored behind Opezo on a throwing error, and Osborne crossed the plate on a fielder's choice.

Panther hurler Dave Kuehner went the distance, allowing only two hits while striking out seven and walking two.

One of the MPL's better pitchers, Abe Shaffer of Hillsdale, came up against a team that has had his number for two years and ended up helping

The Falcons, who had beaten Shaffer twice last year in frosh-soph competition, touched the Knight pitcher for a varsity record of twelve hits, enough to give Crestmoor a 6-3 victory.

The Falcons' Jim Irizarry, a transfer student from New York, belted the first home run ever hit over the right field fence on the Crestmoor grounds.

Mark Lane provided the winning runs for Crestmoor in the sixth inning, singling home two runs. Lane went two for three for the day and scored one run himself.

Glen Grossman was credited with the win for the Falcons, hurling a four-hit, six-strikeout game.

Question Marks Still Lead League

The Rabbits evened their season record at four wins and four losses in the Daly City Recreation Department's High School Three Man Hunch Basketball League last week as they took overtime thriller from the Fearless Flies, 44-40.

Gary Montague poured 22 points thru the hoop to lead the winners while Jim Moura paced the losers with 18 points.

The Question Mark stormed past the Hoop Burners 40-29 as Sid Smith and Dan Coffey turned in fine performances scoring 15 and 14 points respectively. Alan Olesee led the Burners hitting for 14 points.

The Posse truly got their men as they romped past the Banditos 41-16. Len Castillo, Dave Goldman, and Ray Ignacio all turned in fine plays for the winners while the losers were again paced by Bob Dekelaita.

High School Principals Rapped by Walter Mails

Walter (The Great) Mails, former major and coast league baseball star and now a member of the San Francisco Giants, blasted Bay Area high school principals for not caring about baseball.

Speaking at the South San Francisco Kiwanis luncheon at Lyle's Restaurant on El Camino Real, Mails said he was "sick and tired of schools not giving baseball a break."

He said baseball doesn't mean much in high school today.

"They tolerate the game," Mails said. "Football and basketball pay and our school principals and coaches are only interested in the sports that pay. They're interested in the gate. Just name me one that charges for a high school baseball game."

Mails has been in the game for 53 years. Twenty-five years ago he went before the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to save high school baseball. He said the situation today "stinks and I'm going after this, if I have to see Mayor Alioto, Governor Reagan and even the President."

Television is also one of the causes for the decline in interest in baseball, according to Mails. Football and basketball are faster action sports and look more exciting on a television screen.

He also said that in San Francisco 100 youngsters play football and 50 play basketball. "All the rest," according to Mails, "are out getting into trouble instead of playing baseball."

Mails also took issue with SBI, a bill introduced in Sacramento which would not make physical education a mandatory daily requirement in elementary, junior and high schools.

El Camino High School for the last seven years has used the SB 1 type of flexible scheduling. Robert C. Keropian, Principal of El Camino and also president of the South San Francisco Kiwanis Club, said the school saved seven weeks of class time per year by scheduling P.E. for an hour on Monday, two hours on Wednesday and two hours on Friday, instead of an hour a day for five days.

The saving was in dressing and shower time, which took up 40 per cent of the P.E. time in a daily schedule, Keropian said.

The Great Mails prediction for this year: naturally the Giants, followed by Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Los Angeles, and then Philadelphia.

"We have a good balanced club this year," he said. "We lost Tom Haller, but Ron Hunt and Nate Oliver are going to make up for it. Pitching is good. Outfield good, and if Willie Mays is sound all year, we'll win the pennant."

Driver Propelled 54 Feet to Death

Peter Brant Hoffman, 35-year-old San Francisco carpet salesman, was killed Wednesday when his car crashed at the end of the open section of Junipero Serra Freeway in South San Francisco.

Highway Patrolmen Robert Watson and Curtis Roth said Hoffman, whose seat belt was not fastened, was thrown through the window of the right front door and was propelled 54 feet through the air, crashing head first into a metal fence gate bordering the old Junipero Serra Boulevard. He was dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital.

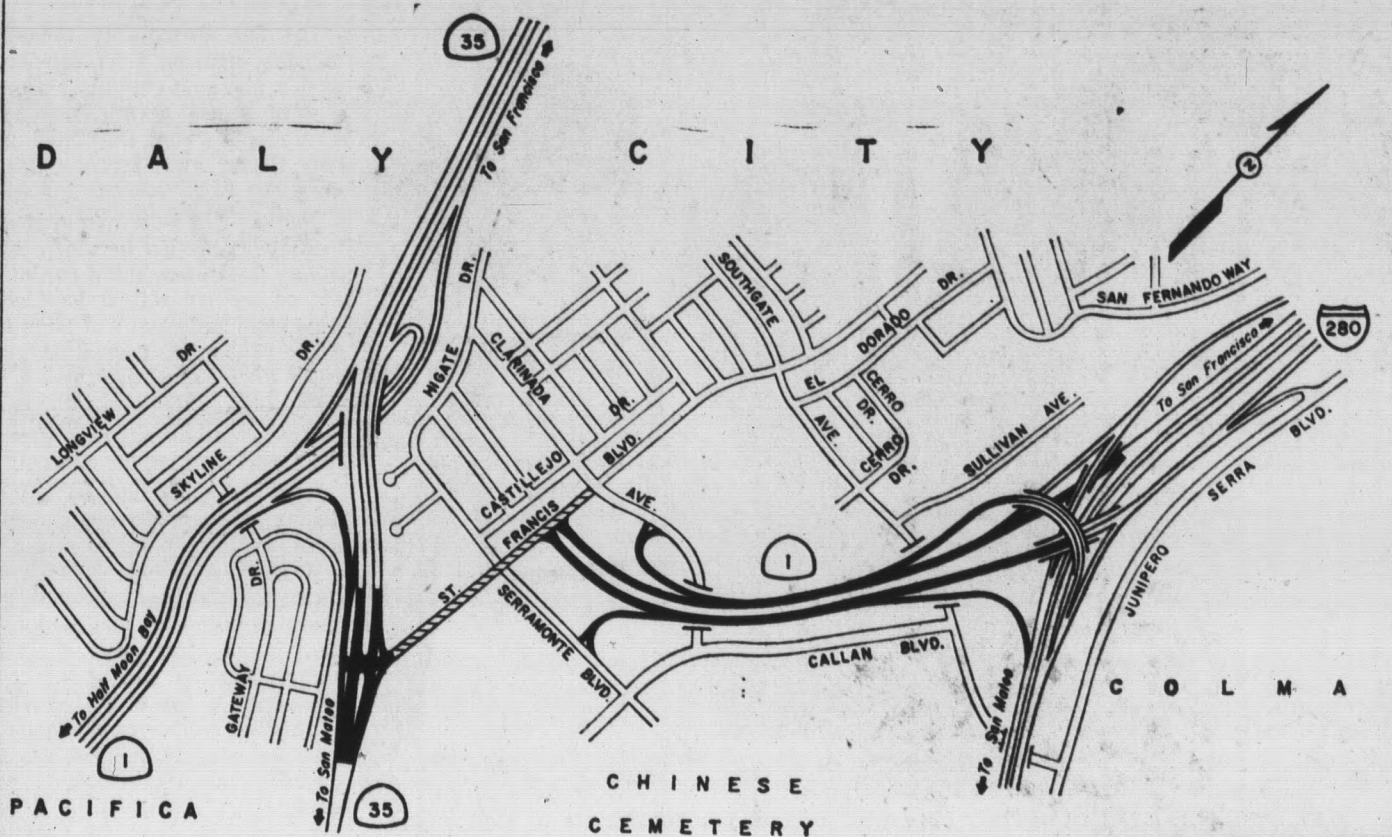

A witness told officers that Hoffman's southbound station wagon was going well over the speed limit when it came to the end of the freeway at Westborough Boulevard where it narrows from four lanes to two and merges with the old highway.

The auto went out of control on a curve, skidded broadside and flipped over a curb and down an embankment to an access road below. The car then continued on down another bank and it was at that point that Hoffman was ejected.

The contract will include construction of left turn storage lanes and installation of traffic signals at the intersections of Skyline Boulevard and St. Francis Boulevard.

$1,800,000 has been budgeted for the project by the California Highway Commission with approximately a year estimated for completion of the work after award of the contract.

Visitors will have the opportunity to sample the results of cooking and baking exhibitions by Mrs. Shirley Tucker's students, or to purchase original block prints created by Mr. Stan Grosse's art students. Service Station Denied

The San Bruno City Council Monday night on a 2-1 vote upheld a planning commission denial of a use permit for construction of a Shell Oil station at San Bruno and Seventh Avenues.

The decision came after lengthy discussion in which Attorney Saul Ross and a consultant on service station location, Hubbard Anderson, attempted to persuade the council to reverse the planning decision.

Councilmen had re-opened the hearing on an appeal from Ross, representing the oil firm.

Ross previously had called the planning body's decision "arbitrary and capricious."

He and Anderson, a retired Union Oil Company official in charge of service station location, who has served as service station location and re-location consultant to the State Division of Highways and certain municipalities, said he did not see a traffic problem involved in the siting of the station in the Belle Air Park area near the heavily traveled freeway off-ramp.

The planners had rejected the proposal on the basis of safety, even though the city's traffic safety commission had seen few problems — if certain conditions were met.

In mid-March a petition containing 69 names of area citizens had been presented to the council, urging concurrence with the planning commission.

New Councilman George Corry abstained from the voting on the issue, because his law partner, John Bible, represented the petitioners and the petition had been drawn up in his office.

Councilmen Neil Christal and Karney Barberian cast the two votes for upholding the planners.

Former Mayor Maurice Hamilton, noting he did not care for the location, voted against the denial.

Hamilton said the council could not base its decision on "whim" or on how the people across the street felt.

He didn't think there was a basis for rejection — particularly since records show the safety commission did not object on those grounds providing a median strip were extended and traffic was slowed down in the area.

Mayor George Ingham abstained from voting.

Several citizens joined in the discussion — generally in opposition to the station from traffic safety viewpoints.

Las Vegas after fleeing the Oakland Airport on February 8, one official who asked not to be identified called the move "highly unlikely."

The reason: "I understand certain circles in Las Vegas are rather anxious to talk to Truax about the last check he cashed at Caesar's Palace."

Mayer says the puzzle is still being pieced together and no one (except perhaps the FBI) knows how Truax accomplished what many law enforcement officers believe is impossible: that is, he drove his "wanted" car with undetected license plates across the nation evading all roadblocks.

Meanwhile, Truax will be returned to the Bay Area next week to face federal charges alleging he diverted government funds for his own use.

U.S. Attorney David Urdan, who is expected to prosecute the case, said yesterday "certain legal procedures are necessary to bring Truax back," but these are considered routine and uncomplicated.

Truax is scheduled to appear again before a federal commissioner on the charges Friday (April 26).

Although Alameda County has not made itself clear on whether charges will be lodged against Truax (ABAG offices are in Alameda County), latest indictments against the suspect came from a federal jury in San Francisco yesterday.

The indictments covered seven checks allegedly cashed by Truax to finance his gambling spree in Las Vegas. They included:

A check for $25,000 on Bank of America, Berkeley (made out to Thompson Enterprises); a United California Bank check for $25,000 to (to T&R Associates); another UCB check for $25,000 (to Troy Thompson); a UCB check for $30,000 made out to Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas; a $50,000 check at UCB (to Caesar's Palace); and a $27,500 check cashed at Bank of America in Berkeley made out to Thompson Enterprises.

Gust Mayor Of Pacifica

Nick Gust, Pacifica restaurateur, last night became the city's new mayor. He replaces Grace McCarthy.

Gust was elected in 1966. He has been active in community affairs for some time, and recently sponsored a golf tournament.

Mayor McCarthy had remained in office an extra week so that she could make the city's presentation at Senate Parks and Recreation subcommittee hearings on the proposed Portola Discovery site.

George Ingham Becomes San Bruno's New Mayor

George Ingham became San Bruno's mayor Monday night. A former mayor, Karney Barberian, was selected by colleagues to serve as vice mayor.

Ingham, though he has been a councilman since 1965, had never been mayor until this week.

A former San Bruno postmaster and a businessman, Ingham came to San Bruno in 1946.

The new vice mayor, Barberian, has been on the council since 1964 after previously serving on planning and recreation commissions.

Art Is Shown Coyote Point

Now showing at the South San Francisco Public Library, Grand Avenue, is a display of paintings by Mrs. Florence Cole. With unusual perception, Mrs. Cole has depicted the loveliness of a floral setting in her "yellow Roses," the beauty of a landscape in "High Sierras," and the calmness of a misty harbor with "Coyote Point Boats."

Taking time out from her duties as a mother, Mrs. Cole has taken art courses at San Mateo College and has also received instruction from Bay Area artists. She feels creative hobbies are essential to a homemaker and attributes her ability to practice and determination.

Lew and Edith Lehr's Tenth Birthday Party

LEW LEHR'S STEAK HOUSE in San Francisco's Marina will celebrate its tenth anniversary, tomorrow night. The Lehrs, Lew and wife, Edith, will have as dinner guests on this occasion many state and civic officials, Northern California assemblymen, supervisors and judges, along with many other friends, well-wishers and long-time customers. The idea of cutting steaks to order any size and pricing the entire dinner accordingly has made Lehr's a huge success. Proof is that every month of each year a gain is shown over previous periods. Bruno Fava serves a la carte dinners from $1.75 and complete dinners starting at $2.75 at Bruno's in downtown San Mateo. Cancelloni is only one of Bruno's specialties, and he offers the spicy Italian dish seven days a week. A prime rib dinner is featured on Friday and Saturday nights.

SUNDAY MARKED the gala Orthodox Easter celebration at the Balkan Village in Los Altos. Louie Gundunas barbecued whole lambs out in front of the restaurant, and his mother busy baking traditional Greek Easter breads and pastries for the Paschal feast. Many other special delicacies, prepared in the centuries-old ways, graced the tables. Suave Rudy Christensen is the new dinner host at the Fork 'n' Cork restaurant. A veteran of the Peninsula restaurant scene, Rudy particularly invites families to enjoy the unique $3.95 menu on Sundays, when plates and prices are also provided for children. Sunday dinner hours, reminds Rudy, are from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. Ty Fay, the Fork 'n' Cork's stylish pianist is now appearing in the lounge on Sunday evenings.

IN THE HOTEL AND CLUB INDUSTRY, everybody thinks they can originate a better drink — one that will do much more for you than the conventional Manhattan, Martini or Whiskey Sour. Now, along comes Steve Norton, Director of Sales at the Villa Hotel, who claims he was flying a few ideas around his living room while mixing drinks for some guests, one day last week. You may not be exactly ready for this, but Steve guarantees you will never need to take another tranquilizer as long as you remember this recipe: in an old fashioned glass, filled with "rocks," pour two one-ounce shots of Vodka, top it with a one-ounce shot of Harvey's Bristol Creme Sherry and add a little lemon juice. Because this drink starts at the knees, sit down and don't plan to go away. You won't care what happened to your weekend. If you have a name for this "far out" concoction, why not call Steve Norton at the Villa Hotel — he can't think of anything bad enough to call it.

HILTON INN at San Francisco International Airport has completely redecorated and revitalized its French Corner restaurant, which now has a charming Continental atmosphere and exquisitely-prepared cuisine to match. Dinner music is provided by Maurice Anger at the piano. A special feature — highly recommended by Maitre d'hotel Dziura — is Hilton's famous "Chef's Table 11" for discriminating gourmets seeking something unique on the Peninsula. The French Corner is open 6:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday; closed Sundays. Seen recently on several occasions enjoying lunch at Oreste's restaurant in San Francisco were Steve McQueen and Robert Vaughn.

CONRAD REISCH, Peninsula attorney, was appointed Judge of Superior Court and Head of Domestic Relations of San Mateo County by Governor Reagan, celebrated the occasion at a dinner party at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco. In the party were Reisch's wife, Kathy, and their good friends Nancy and Bob Rudolph of Hillsborough. Gaylord and Holiday are currently headlining the entertainment program at Harrah's Stateline Cabaret at the south shore of Lake Tahoe through May 8. Wildly funny, touchingly nostalgic, the two comedians capture and retain their audiences with their informality and inventive comedy. Mitzie Gaynor is the scheduled headliner in the South Shore Room beginning Thursday, April 25. Western star Judy Lynn and her entire troupe are the current headliners in the Casino Cabaret at Harrah's Reno. They appear through May 8.

SINCE INTRODUCING his new catering service a few weeks ago, Dave Rasmussen and his Shadows' crew have been busy booking various social and business functions. Last Tuesday night, the Shadows of San Mateo catered a gathering for the San Mateo Development Association, who had as a guest speaker for the evening Senator Thomas Kuchel. Held at the Floral and Fiesta grounds, over 400 were in attendance. Meet your friends for luncheon, cocktails, or dinner at "Joe's" of Hillsdale, Art Petri's award-winning restaurant located in the center of the Hillsdale Shopping Center. The menu includes a splendid assortment of pastes, and Italian and Continental dishes. Banquet rooms available for either large or small groups. Louis Frutschi, the dashing maitre d' at L'Auberge in Atherton, looks like David Niven in his tuxedo. But after work, you'll see the handsome restaurateur riding to his Palo Alto home on a motorcycle.

Kenny Burt, who opened last Tuesday night for an extended engagement at Burlingame's Alexi's Zorba Supperclub, left his trio behind for this appearance, and his accomplished piano artistry will be the main attraction. Francis Blair Finocchio's Star For Eight Years

After eight years as a star at Finocchio's, Francis Blair is still one of the most riotous comedians in the female impersonators show. A former vaudeville performer, and star of Pantages and Orpheum circuits, Blair turned to female impersonations when vaudeville went out of style. He based much of his act on memories of the late and great Julian Eltinge, perhaps the greatest of all impersonators on the American stage. Blair has a staggering wardrobe of gowns originally worn by movie stars, most of them purchased from the Hollywood studios at half their initial cost.

Benjamin Franklin Hotel chef, Karl Faigle, was happy to see his friend Hans Baumann (the owner, operates and chefs at the Lake Tahoe Swiss Chalet), this past week. When these two culinary geniuses get together, menus and recipes are discussed at length. Going to Tahoe this summer? Stop in the Swiss Chalet — you'll be impressed with the food and atmosphere.

A statewide convention of the California Association of Licensed Investigators will convene at Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, Friday night. Over 500 in membership, the "private eyes" are certainly handy people to have around.

PIONEERS OF PACIFICA — Anastasia and Charles Gust, father and mother, of popular Pacifica restaurateur, Nick Gust. The Elder Gusts founded the now famous restaurant known as Nick's.

"Female Ranchhand" At Black Angus

Very seldom will you find a female "ranchhand," but an exception to the rule is Trudy Kugler, charming dinner hostess at San Mateo's Black Angus Chuck Wagon. Trudy, who greets hundreds of people within the short period of a week, has a distinctive foreign accent, about which she is constantly being kidded. After all, who has ever heard of a pretty German girl working "wangler"?

With local election talk again dominating the conversation of many Peninsulans, the nightly dining scene at Scotty Campbell's usually resembles a political convention. Co-owner Mary Lou Francis acts as referee for the debates, with dry-witted plankman "Black" McManus being a one-man nominating committee. For sparkling conversation, as well as the best in prime ribs, head for Redwood City and Scotty Campbell's.

They say "Taste makes waist," but not so at Fosters Original Pancake and Chicken House. Yours Truly has been on a breakfast diet of buttermilk pancakes for the past six weeks — and have not gained a pound. Foster's bossman, Albert Christensen, reports that many of his patrons are on pancake diets. This is what you might call a "sweet way" to lose weight.

The Gold Room, lavish banquet facility in Bruno Scatena's International Joe's restaurant, can easily accommodate 50 to 150 people. Much in demand by various Daly City social and business groups, the room also affords a large dance floor and private bar.

Fireside Lounge Offers New Faces and Figures

The nightly entertainment agenda at Jack McRae and Phil Maite's Fireside Lounge could well be a booking agent's dream. Jack and Phil have combed the country looking for the ultimate in performers, and their discoveries are currently the talk of the Peninsula.

The entertainment lineup includes Wendy Stafford, sultry vocalist; "Janee," interpretative topless dancer; Angel, who presents provocative "Nude Dances," and exotic Tamara, whose "Nude Bedroom Scene" is a spellbinder. The dramatic highlight of the evening is the "Nude Dance of Love" (performed in "Living Color"), which must be seen to be believed.

These performances are surrounded by the live music of Diamond Jim and the Karats, a band which rates with the best groups ever showcased by Jack and Phil.

Opening Monday at the Fire-side will be Diamond Jim and the Karats.

Another Bartels and Blaine operation, in their "dynasty" they also own the adjacent A&W Drive In. As you drive South on El Camino Real, an amusing term can usually be found posted on one or the other restaurant signs.

$17,500 Fire Hits Home In San Bruno

A roaring fire caused an estimated $17,500 damage to the Oliver Reller home at 200 Fernwood in San Bruno Thursday when fumes from a leaking fuel line of a car were ignited by a water heater in the garage.

Fire Chief Herb Freitas explained that Reller apparently was changing a fuel line on his compact car in the garage. The line broke and spilled a "large amount" of gasoline on the floor, with the fumes being touched off by the water heater, while Reller was in another part of the shingle-roofed, wood-frame and stucco home.

Reller, upon discovering the 11:15 a.m. blaze, drove out another vehicle in the garage before the heat of the fire became too intense and prior to calling firemen.

The car that Reller was repairing was destroyed, however. The flames engulfed the garage, ignited shingles and then spread into the attic and to a lanai that was attached to the garage, Freitas said.

"It was a real going fire" by the time fire units arrived, the chief said.

Once units started for the scene, firemen "didn't have to be told where it was," he said. "We could see the black smoke from town."

The Reller home is in the Rollingwood area on the northern limits of San Bruno west of Junipero Serra boulevard and Golden Gate National Cemetery.

Smoke was so dense, the chief noted, that he was unable to see fire equipment that arrived earlier.

Though the wind-fanned fire did not spread to other portions of the house inside, water and smoke damage was extreme throughout, he said.

The entire roof of the three-bedroom house was damaged. Firemen were able to control the blaze within 10 minutes, but it took until after 1:30 p.m. to complete mopping up operations, Freitas said.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $500 and to other contents, $2,000. The rest was listed as structural damage. No one was injured.

THE POST AUTO WORLD

Chrysler-Plymouth Division today reported retail deliveries of new cars for the first ten days of April totaled 21,217 units, compared with 23,112 car sales in the same period last year.

Daily rate of sales for the period totaled 2,358 units compared with the daily sales rate of 2,889 cars in the same ten-day period last year when there was one less selling day.

Sales by car lines for the first ten days of April: Plymouth 16,330; Chrysler 4,630; Imperial, 257.

Following three consecutive monthly new car sales records, Cadillac dealers posted a new record for the April 1-10 period with 6,039 domestic deliveries.

According to Fred T. Hopkins, general sales manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division, the 6,039 deliveries are more than seven per cent over the former record for the April 1-10 period, 5,597, set in 1965. Also this new mark is over 25 per cent ahead of the 4,815 new car sales for the same period a year ago.

"The impact of record first quarter sales and this first period in April brings year-to-date, January 1-April 10, Cadillac new car sales to 63,521," Hopkins said. "This is more than 10 per cent over the 57,341 deliveries during the same period last year — Cadillac's best sales year in history. And with spring weather ahead, we are enthusiastic about continuance of the sales momentum Cadillac dealers have established."

U.S. motor vehicle production last week totaled 154,024 units, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today.

The week's output included 126,622 passenger cars and 27,402 trucks and buses. During the previous week 179,637 cars and 37,252 commercial vehicles were produced, the AMA said.

Cumulative output in 1968 through April 13 totaled 3,177,859 units, including 2,626,855 cars and 551,004 commercial vehicles. In the same period last year 2,702,885 vehicles were produced — 2,187,917 passenger cars and 514,968 trucks and buses.

The following figures compare the new domestic passenger car registrations for San Mateo County for 1966 and 1967. These figures, compiled by The Times Research Department, exclude the lease and fleet sales totals.

Emergency Team Taking 3rd 'Break'

REACT (Radio Emergency, Associated Citizens' Team) of the Golden Gate Area will hold its third annual "Coffee Break" on Saturday evening, April 27, from 6 to 11 p.m., at the Marine Corps Drill Hall, in San Bruno.

REACT is a public service volunteer organization, using citizen band radio as its means of communication, in its chosen task of aiding motorists in emergency need. Its headquarters at the top of San Bruno Mountain also lends aid to the Red Cross and Disaster Corps efforts.

The Coffee Break will feature new equipment on exhibit by local electronics dealers and will attract CBers from as far as Eureka, Reno, and Fresno. Prizes will be awarded during the evening's activities. Admission is free, refreshments will be served, and the public is urged to attend.

In a typical activity: A car bearing a two-way radio, cruises along the highway, in pursuit of its own travel or business requirements, but the driver has his eye peeled for another motorist in trouble.

He looks for a car pulled up on the side of the road, a forlorn driver, a raised hood, or an accident that is blocking traffic.

Finding one, the CBER pulls over to a safe location, offers his help, radios for the CHP, the AAA, or perhaps an important message to cover the obvious delay.

Another REACT team member at home or on San Bruno Mountain receives his call's and makes the needed phone calls.

Dr. in the Kitchen

By W. W. BAUER, M.D.

Historically, the phrase "living off the fat of the land" has meant good times, periods of affluence, if you will. With such connotations, there has been a tendency to regard fat as something one might do without.

The phrase "fat of the land" is, of course, symbolic of far more than just the fat in food. Still, in olden times it probably meant just that — for early civilizations were fortunate indeed when they gained tasty food and sufficient shelter.

Thus, nowadays we can easily believe that leanness is a virtue and associated with fitness while its opposite, fatness, is deplored. Couple with this the current questions about whether food fats might have something to do with heart disease and you have a situation in which some people wonder whether fats are worth it all.

Are fats really good for us? Do they belong regularly in our meals? The answer is "yes!"

and here are reasons why:

Fats make our meals taste better and more satisfying. They are our most concentrated dietary source of energy. They carry more calories in small bulk than other food fractions — nine calories per gram as compared with the four calories per gram offered by proteins and carbohydrates.

This higher calorie content causes some people to believe fats specifically are fattening. Well, if you add too much regularly to otherwise sufficient meals, you no doubt will gain weight. This would also be true with any food. But used in proper proportion with other nutrients, fats are not in themselves fattening.

Fats have, in fact, a tendency to be digested more slowly than other food components — thus helping weight watchers in particular to feel satisfied from one meal to the next. This so-called "satiety" value as well as vital nutrition that fats offer is one of the main reasons fats belong in both weight control diets and nutritionally adequate meals for all the family.

Fats promotes efficiency in the body's utilization of both protein and carbohydrate. Fat also brings to the body fat soluble vitamins. Some fats are important sources of vitamins A, D, E, and K. Most of all, however, fats provide various amount of fatty acids. Some of these fatty acids are essential in our diets because the body cannot make them from other food components. We must then receive them in our food already

Daily Need For Calcium

It is a nutritional fact that calcium needs phosphorus if it is to be properly utilized by the body. Milk is noted for its calcium content. In fact it is considered the prime food source and the phosphorus in milk is in just the right proportion for adequate absorption by the body. A friend of mine has said, spoils everything if allowed to overdo it. But fat deposited in the body can also pad the joints, help the body retain heat, and constitute a reserve supply of energy.

Sponge Roll Hors d'Oeuvres Is an Ingenious Recipe

Here's one of the best "made" hors d'oeuvre we've ever tried.

It's an ingenious sponge roll. Including only a few tablespoons of sugar, stuffed with deviled ham spiked with sweet pickle relish, frosted with pimiento cream cheese and garnished with parsley and toasted filberts.

If you are a cook who likes to prepare ahead, when you're having a party, you can bake, fill, frost, cover and chill the roll the day before serving. Then an hour before offering, you can add the garnish of parsley and nuts. Adding the nuts at the last minute allows them to stay crisp.

We tried serving this roll two ways. Half of it was used on a lunch menu along with a tossed green salad. We served slices of the roll on the salad plates with salad forks. The other half was used as an hors d'oeuvre at cocktail time. Here we served slices on bread-and-butter plates with cocktail forks — the sort designed for oysters or shrimp cocktail. Both times the roll made a great hit. We've tried several other recipes for a sponge-roll base for an hors d'oeuvre, but this is the best one we've come across.

DEVILED HAM SPONGE ROLL.
4 large eggs, separated
½ teaspoon salt

2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ cup sifted regular flour
2 cans (each 4½ ounces) deviled ham
2 tablespoons lightly drained sweet pickle relish
Large pimiento-stuffed green olives
1 tub (4 ounces) whipped pimiento cream cheese, at room temperature
½ cup coarsely chopped parsley

½ cup coarsely chopped toasted filberts
Grease a jelly roll pan about 15 by 10 by 1 inch. Line bottom with wax paper; grease paper. In a large mixing bowl, with electric beater, beat the egg whites until foamy; add salt and sugar. Beat until whites hold stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. At once, without washing beaters, beat the egg yolks until they begin to thicken and are lemon color. Fold into the beaten egg whites with the minced parsley. Gradually fold in flour.

Turn into prepared pan, spreading evenly. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 8 to 10 minutes.
Meanwhile, in a small bowl, mix together the deviled ham and pickle relish.
With a small spatula, loosen
"cake" from sides of pan. Turn-

A Delicious Icing From Yesteryear

A delicious oldtime icing for Lane Cake or another variety. Roast Turkey, Stuffing, Gravy Parsnip Puff Green Beans Relish Tray Bread Basket Lane Cake with Emma R. Law's Frosting

EMMA R. LAW'S FROSTING

1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup white corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons water
2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

In a 1-quart saucepan put the sugar, corn syrup, salt and water. Over moderately low heat, with a rubber spatula, stir several times to dissolve sugar, scraping undissolved grains from sides of pan. Over moderate heat boil until syrup spins a thread or to 242 degrees on a candy thermometer. Shortly before syrup is ready, beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Gradually beat about half the syrup into the beaten whites. (Place saucepan with remaining syrup in a skillet of hot water, of heat, to keep warm.) Continue beating egg white mixture until thick and fluffy. Gradually beat in remaining warm syrup and vanilla; continue to beat, if necessary, until mixture holds stiff shiny peaks. Enough frosting to cover top and sides of a layer cake made with about 3 cups flour — 2 to 4 layers.

Freezing Will Change Milk

Home economists for the Dairy Council of California keep reminding homemakers that "Milk isn't for freezing." Freezing does not affect the nutritive value of the milk, but it does change the appearance. When milk or cream is frozen and thawed, a flaky protein deposit shows up as fine flecks on the side of the glass. Fat separation which occurs on freezing also makes it difficult to obtain a smooth mixture after thawing. However, if milk has been frozen, thaw slowly for a minimum of separation and remixing problems.

The Spice of Life Has a Background

Spices are seasonings, used since ancient times. The most common spices in the average kitchen are salt and pepper. When the use of salt is restricted for medical reasons, both cook and patient face the problem of a dull and tasteless diet. That's where other spices come in, adding life and zest to otherwise tasteless food.

The so-called salt-free diet gets its unfortunate name from the chemical formula of table salt, sodium chloride. It is the sodium ion that must be restricted in circulatory and kidney diseases — but note, restricted, NOT eliminated. Sodium chloride is an essential factor in every body tissue. Restrictions are accomplished under medical guidance by choosing foods with low natural sodium content, and by reducing the use of salt in cooking and at table. The resulting diet tends to be dull and tasteless, and the temptation to cheat may be strong. So we turn to alternate flavorings.

Europeans have always used spices oftener and with more skill than most American cooks. My German-born grandmother

Vitamin A Is Needed

Nutritionists for the Dairy Council of California agree with other dietary specialists the country over that plenty of vitamin A is needed for an A-plus performance of the body. Vitamin A is essential to growth, helps promote clear skin, healthy nails, shiny hair, firm gums and normal vision. A lack of this vitamin has been found to produce night blindness. Too little vitamin A may cause dryness, itching and scaliness of the skin over the entire body.

Spices, along with salt substitutes, and flavorful vegetables like carrots, onions, celery and garlic can help to tempt the appetite of the salt-deprived person. and, of course, you don't have to be on a diet to enjoy some spice in your life.

Finally, don't forget that salt, properly used, is a basic essential of good nutrition.

A Skillet-Fired Sandwich

Satisfy that hungry man of yours with robust Reuben Sandwiches. These hearty corned beef, Swiss cheese and sauerkraut sandwiches are specialties of many of those wonderfully masculine oak and letter, "stand-up" grills that specialize in "men only" lunches. Assemble the sandwiches as usual, then dip them in egg and milk and grill in oil in a skillet—just like making French toast. For extra-good flavor we've used new buttery flavor oil for our Reuben Sandwiches. Buttery flavor oil is simply

SKILLET-FRIED REUBEN SANDWICH

8 slices rye bread
Mayonnaise
8 thin slices cooked corned beef
¾ cup very well-drained canned sauerkraut
8 slices Swiss cheese polyunsaturated, pure vegetable oil with rich buttery-like flavor and color added. Baked goods made with buttery flavor oil take on a more golden hue. Buttery flavor oil for frying browns foods beautifully and evenly without burning.

Appetizer For Fireside

Here is a gooey but scrumptious kind of cheese appetizer that just cannot be resisted (it certainly wasn't when we served it!). Simply scatter a solid layer of crisp tortilla chips on a heat-proof plate or platter (better make it a large one). Cover generously with grated Monterey Jack or sharp Cheddar cheese. Pop into a hot, 450 degree, oven until cheese is melted. Serve quickly. Perfect for informal fire-side gatherings. Lots of paper napkins, please.

An Old Featherlite Type Gingerbread

Couple an old-fashioned recipe with a modern product and you come up with a fine cake.

Here it is, real old-time featherlite gingerbread made with today's pumpkin pie spice. We like the pumpkin pie spice for its excellent flavor and versatility.

The following recipe—for what may just be the world's best gingerbread—is made with mixing bowl and wooden spoon. There's no need to turn on the electric mixer or beater if you are not so inclined.

Serve this gingerbread fresh and warm from the oven or reheat it as a delicious dessert. Top it with applesauce and whipped cream or just the cream. Or serve it with a lemon sauce and a fluff of cream cheese beaten with a little cream or milk until it is airy-soft.

WONDERFUL GINGERBREAD

1½ cups sifted regular flour
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
½ cup (¼ pound) butter or regular margarine, allowed to stand at room temperature until soft

1 cup sugar
1 large egg
1 cup molasses
2-3rd cup boiling water

Grease the bottom of a square cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); line bottom with wax paper. On a piece of wax paper sift together the flour, baking soda, salt and pumpkin pie spice.

In a medium mixing bowl, with a wooden spoon, beat to light and fluffy; add egg and heat thoroughly. Stir in molasses. Add flour mixture; stir just enough to blend ingredients. Mixture should be stiff.

Add boiling water, a little at a time, stirring to blend after each addition; batter will be thin.

Pour into prepared pan. Bake in a 375-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 30 minutes.

Place gingerbread in pan wire rack; let stand 10 minutes. With a spatula, loosen edges; turn out onto wire rack. Peel off paper. Turn onto serving plate so it is topside up. Serve at once while gingerbread is warm or reheat.

Makes nine servings.

Sour Cream Coffee Cake A New Way

This is an unusually delicious version of popular sour cream coffee cake.

PRUNE COFFEE CAKE

1½ cups prunes
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 cups sifted regular flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 container (8 ounces) commercial sour cream

Topping—See recipe below
Grease and flour bottom and sides of a nine-inch tube pan. Put prunes in a small mixing bowl and cover with boiling water; let stand 15 minutes; drain. Pit and dice. Clean and set aside on wax paper. On another piece of wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Remove ¼ cup of the mixture and toss with prunes.

In a large mixing bowl, cream the butter, sugar and vanilla; thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Slowly and gently beat in flour mixture in four additions, alternating with sour cream—the flour should be both first and last additions. Fold in prune mixture.

Turn one-third of the batter into the prepared pan. Sprinkle with one-third of the topping; repeat layering twice. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out free of batter—about 55 minutes. Place cake in pan on wire rack for 10 minutes; turn out on wire rack. Turn right side up; cool.

Topping: Mix together ½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cinnamon and ½ cup finely chopped walnuts.

Beans, Eggs Served Up With Finesse

4 large eggs
1 can 1 pound, ½ ounce pork and beans, heated

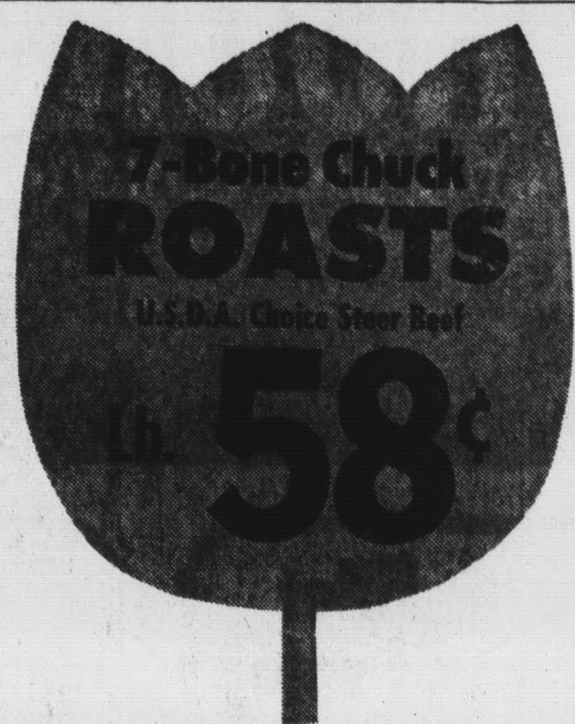

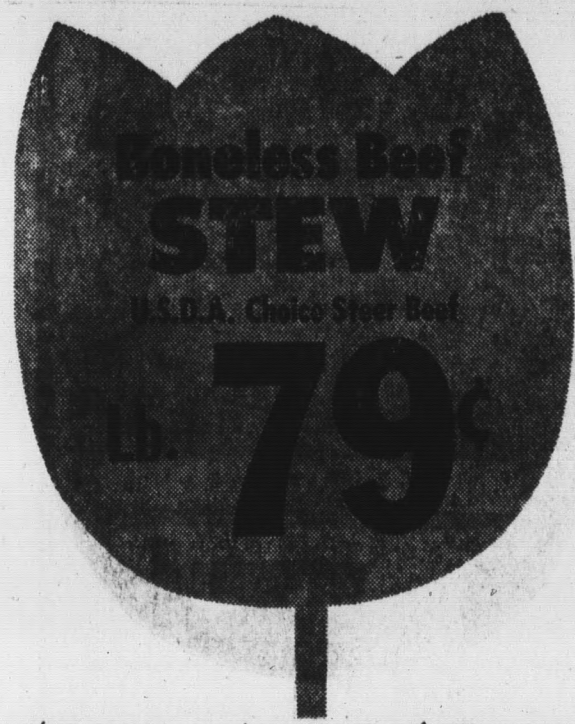

Grease the bottom and sides of a 10-inch skillet with butter. Pour in four cups boiling water. Bring water to a boil; lower heat and have water simmering—bubbles appear just below surface. Break an egg into a cup; hold cup close to simmering water and drop in the egg; add remaining eggs in the same way. Cover skillet; poach eggs—making sure water stays at simmering—for two to four minutes or until whites are set and opaque and yolks are as firm as desired.

With a slotted spoon, draining well, place each egg on a serving of the heated pork and beans. Garnish with strips of crisp bacon. Makes four average servings.

Dairy Foods Are 'Dreamy'

California dairy foods are the stuff of which dream-dishes are made. For example: buttery good cookies, hearty flavor-some cream soups, cheese-filled casseroles, dairy sour cream salad dressings, and on and on ad infinitum. According to nutritionists of the Dairy Council of California, as well as other nationally known nutritionists, they all possess down-to-earth qualities when it comes to food value.

It is a well known fact that milk is one of the best foods "as is" or in any of its many forms. It is especially important for these three nutrients: calcium, the B-vitamin riboflavin and protein.

Former Jeff Athlete Killed in Action

THIS STAR JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL athlete won many medals on the track and football field. He died valiantly on another field . . . in Vietnam.

Former Track Star Predicted His Own Death

Marine Private First Class Sherrick C. Britton predicted his own heroic death in a letter to his mother and friends dated April 9.

The young Jefferson High School graduate and former star athlete, who would have been 19 years old today, died in a bloody battle at Quan Nam, South Vietnam on April 10.

In Sherrick's last letter to his mother, Mr. Eleanor Duchattellier, of 311 Ottilia Street, Daly City, the veteran of less than two months in that war torn country said his platoon's captain informed the men "it's going to be a terrible fight."

Many of the Marines would never come back from the battle, Sherrick wrote. He hoped he would be one of the lucky ones. Certainly he would do everything in his power to see that nothing happened "but you have to fight for what you believe in . . . this is my duty and I must do it."

He said he would be willing to die for that belief.

"Mom . . . I am sorry you are left alone at home, but you must understand a man has to do what he thinks is right or he isn't a man," Sherrick wrote.

He apologized to his mother for again missing Easter Sunday with the family at their modest home near the Cow Palace, and said "it feels funny to have a birthday halfway around the world."

The small home was something the whole family chipped in to buy not long ago.

"Sherrick and Robert (a CSM student) and even 12-year-old Chris, wanted this to be their home, now that we all were growing older," Mrs. Duchattellier said.

On the front door of the house hangs a fir wreath with a willow red rose and white ribbon. A banner proclaims "My Son Is a U.S. Marine." Over the fireplace is a conglomeration of photos and news clippings hoarded by Sherrick's mother, announcing he had won this track event, or that swim contest or the Jeff Indians had once again bounced over Oceana or Westmoor.

There are pictures of the handsome blue-eyed, blond haired youth. Muscular, energetic, full of life.

"He thought it was his family duty to serve his country. That was the way he wanted it," Mrs. Duchattellier explained.

Sherrick was born on Easter Sunday 1949. His father was killed in a traffic accident when he was still an infant.

His fellow students at Jeff remember Sherrick as an all-around star athlete, captain of the football team, popular with everyone.

"He had a school sweetheart . . . her name is Sharon . . . I don't recall her last name. They were pretty serious about each other," Mrs. Duchattellier remembered as she spoke proudly of her son shortly after the Marine Captain left the telegram Friday.

Sherrick will be buried with full military honors at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno on Saturday, April 27, at 11 a.m.

Householders Can End 'Junk' Mail

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail. Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy said in announcing plans for administering a new law which gives each family the right to decide that an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mails is offensive on these grounds, a postal patron can now ask the post office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists he owns, controls or rents.

To assist patrons, the Post Office Department has published a brief pamphlet, "Now You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements," which is now available at the Daly City Post Office. In addition to explaining how the law works, the pocket-size leaflet contains a form letter one can use when sending his complaint to the post office.

The pamphlet explains that when a patron receives an advertisement which is, in his opinion, pandering, he must send the ad, its envelope and the form letter, or one which includes its language, to his post office with the words, "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of the envelope.

Postmaster Murphy said. "This new law should give some protection to American families offended by advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children."

"Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While in most cases the ads were not legally obscene and were therefore mailable, they are often offensive and are usually not the type of material one would want his children to read," Postmaster Murphy said.

He added that, "Because the law gives a mail patron the sole right to decide what is offensive, and does not deny others the right to receive the same mail, the Congress felt it does not violate constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech."

Crusade Spends To Combat Poverty

In an effort to help meet San Mateo County's needs for youth from poverty areas, the United Crusade will provide special funds to five of its county agencies for expanded summer programs.

The agencies are: Boy Scouts, San Mateo County Council, serving all poverty areas in San Mateo; South San Francisco Boys' Club serving San Bruno and South San Francisco; Catholic Youth Organization serving county target poverty areas; Sequoia YMCA serving East Palo Alto and Girl Scouts serving East Palo Alto.

The San Mateo County projects are part of a five-county summer program at a cost of $118,040, according to Richard Fargo Bank and chairman of United Crusade's Committee on Community Preparedness.

The allocation will provide 20,929 boys and girls with vocational counseling, job training, work experiences, leadership training and recreational activities such as nature study, camping, arts and crafts and sports.

There will be employment for 333 teen-agers who will assist the 28 UBAC agencies in the programs.

Cooley emphasized that these expanded programs will be in addition to the regular, on-going work of the 174 UBAC agencies, many of which serve large numbers of boys and girls. He said that some 32 per cent of the funds presently raised by United Crusade — about $4,000,000 — are now used in this manner and benefit some 300,500 boys and girls — or one out of three in the Bay Area.

Rhymes To Key Carnival In San Bruno

A "carnival," guaranteed to delight both young and old will be put on by the Pacific Heights P-TA at the school on Saturday, April 27, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The theme of the event will center around various nursery rhymes.

"Little Miss Muffet's Buffet," a hot dog, soft drink, and potato chip stand, will satisfy hungry tummies. Keep an eye out for a "live" hot dog walking around amidst the crowd, also.

"Jack Horner's Corner," the sweet shop, will house the goodies — pies, cakes, and cookies, etc. "Little Bo Peep's Boutique" will please the people who like to buy "white lamb (elephant) type" items.

Nine game booths, popcorn and cotton candy machines, clowns to make you laugh, and "Pick-a-Pockets" (this gent will have large pockets sewn on his clothes with treats in them to purchase (will also add to the merriment).

The public is cordially invited. The school is located at Chilton Lane and Pacific Heights Boulevard, San Bruno.

Pedestrian Is Injured

A 51-year-old pedestrian was injured Wednesday after he apparently walked into the side of a moving car 350 feet south of Sneath Lane, on El Camino Real, in San Bruno.

Taken to Peninsula Hospital, where he was reported in satisfactory condition was Emile P. Escallier of 364 Richmond Drive, Millbrae.

San Bruno police said Diana Robinson, 67, of 1040 Capuchino, Millbrae, was the driver of the car involved in the 2:13 p.m. accident.

Bruno Man Found Dead

A man identified as Robert E. Spencer, 51, was found dead in his car in a parking lot at El Camino Real and Forest Avenue in San Bruno last night. The coroner's office said death was apparently due to natural causes. An autopsy was to be done today.

It was learned that Spencer had recently been discharged from a Veterans' Administration hospital in White City, Ore. Spencer was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital at 7:23 p.m.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Boy Scout Week Is Proclaimed

Mayor Bernard Lycett has commended the San Francisco Bay Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America "for its outstanding programs involving the youth of Daly City and the Bay Area communities."

The mayor, in a special proclamation, also urged the citizens of Daly City to support the ticket sales and attend the 1968 Scout-O-Rama April 27.

The proclamation:

"Whereas, the Boy Scouts of America has made an outstanding contribution to the welfare of our nation over the many years since its founding in 1910; and

"Whereas, in these times the role of character building and citizenship training that the Boy Scouts performs has greater significance than ever; and

"Whereas, thousands of adults and boys in our communities participate in the programs for young men of all ages conducted by the San Francisco Bay Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America; and

"Now, therefore, I, Bernard J. Lycett, mayor of the city of Daly City, do hereby commend the San Francisco Bay Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America for its outstanding programs involving the youth of Daly City and the Bay Area communities, and urge the citizens of Daly City to support the ticket sales and attend the 1968 Scout-O-Rama on April 27."

No Posey Parade This Year

San Bruno's Famed Posey Parade is no more.

Reluctantly this week the San Bruno Optimist Club decided to fold the parade, the biggest single event in the city.

It was a lack of manpower said President Ivan Raicevich. "Last year's parade was bigger than ever but we don't have the manpower to tackle this sort of thing."

Raicevich said that the club will channel its efforts into a youth program.

The Posey Parade began in 1941 with just 80 children and a few doll buggies being pushed down San Mateo Avenue.

As the parade grew in popularity so did the entries. Some of the floats rivalled Pasadena but they had to be propelled by children power alone, no motors or horses.

Also featured was a Posy Princess selected from the city's kindergarten classes. In its final year the parade had 2500 children in it including eight school bands. Thirty thousand spectators watched.

Books New WHS Venture

Westmoor's campus bookstore has made its reappearance as an immobile bookmobile, but plans are already afoot to turn the bookmobile into a mobile unit to service the students during lunch hours.

Presently open before school and after school in room 23, the bookmobile contains an assortment of paperbacks for sale.

Marilyn Alarcon, who ordered the books, is student manager of the store, which is run by the members of the International Friendship Club.

In existence for five years, the bookstore offers the students Cliff Notes on various classics studied in English classes, required reading book such as two current favorites, "The Greatest Thing Since Sliced Bread" and "The Hobbits," JFK's non-fiction "Profiles in Courage," and James Baldwin's timely "The Fire Next Time."

Mrs. Lois McNabb, adviser to the International Friendship Club, explains that profits from the bookstore sales have been used to help Westmoor students participate in the "Experiment in International Living" summer program.

These funds supplement the funds raised by the community and the club through other activities such as coke concessions and dances.

With the crowded conditions at Westmoor the bookstore was forced to vacate its previous site and so the idea of a portable bookstore, which could bring the books to the students during the lunch periods, was born.

Westmoor Woodshop students under the guidance of James Lair, woodshop instructor, constructed the wheeled cart for the International Friendship Club.

S.S.F. Child Is Injured

A South San Francisco child was injured Tuesday afternoon when her bicycle collided with an automobile at the intersection of California Street and Hawthorne Avenue.

Six-year-old Arlene Till, 611 Olive, was treated for cuts and bruises at Kaiser Hospital after the accident occurred at 5:45 p.m.

Police said the child came out of an alley and struck the side of a car driven by Jack H. Pyle, 613 Walnut.

Art Students In Park Visit

Venturing to Golden Gate Park, first-year Westmoor High art students, clad in off-campus clothes, discovered a new world among the Brundage art collection.

Mrs. Aileen Kelley and Mrs. Susan Curtis accompanied the 45 art students on April 17. Both teachers were on hand to answer questions, as well as to explain the history behind some of the art pieces.

Among the things seen in the Brundage collection were pillows made of porcelain and wood, porcelain plates and pottery of many-colored glazes. Throughout the building were carved wooden statues of different Gods worshipped by the Chinese. Also on display was a complete section of carved jade in green and white shades.

After making a complete round at the Avery Brundage collection, students traveled to the Palace of the Legion of Honor where they viewed paintings along with old furniture and various bronze statues.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered. If the bid is not accepted, the bidder or bidders shall be deemed to have agreed to pay to the District the amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the District.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals, unless such time of award is waived by the successful bidder.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the date of sale, but not prior to the date of the bonds.

RIGHT OF AWARD: Bids shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of SAN MATEO CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT of San Mateo County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $10,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a non-liquidation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.
